CONGRESS TO QUIT USING PRODS ON BIG-BUSINESS

Anti-Trust Legislation Will Not Be Undertaken at This Session on the Broad Scale Originally Outlined.

Washington, April 11.—Anti-trust legislation supplementary to the Sherman act probably will not be undertaken at this session of congress on the broad scale originally outlined by the administration. This became known here tonight, democratic senate and house leaders agreeing that a practical solution of the vexatious problem to cope with evils of big business through legislation had been suggested.

WILSON IS FAVORABLE TO THE PROPOSED PLAN

The plan, it was asserted, is to pass one bill which would create an interstate trade commission with broad powers to investigate matters of commerce and with specific authorization to inquire into the relation to commerce of interlocking directorates, holding companies, stock-watering, the leasing of railroad securities and price discriminations which tend to destroy competition. The commission would recommend to the next congress what further trade regulatory legislation it deemed advisable for the welfare of the country.

Suggested by Wilson. Such a culmination of an anti-trust legislative program, originally suggested by President Wilson in a special message to congress, has been working out in conference between the president and senate and house leaders for many weeks. The task tentatively outlined in his proposed anti-trust legislation, which he presented to congress last week, the task tentatively outlined in his proposed anti-trust legislation, which he presented to congress last week, the task tentatively outlined in his proposed anti-trust legislation, which he presented to congress last week.

President Wilson, in his trust message, sought merely to suggest to congress the evils of big business which needed regulation. Since then he has had more conferences with senate and house leaders and senate committees which from time to time have submitted tentative legislation.

Some time ago a committee of the senate interstate commerce committee was appointed to incorporate into its measure all features of the various bills contemplated. Since that time there has been considerable stumbling blocks have been encountered as to how far congress should go in exacting legislation supplementary to the Sherman act; just what it should strengthen.

After many conferences of democratic and republican senators, who in turn have conferred with members of the house interstate commerce and judiciary committees, a tentative amendment to the Sherman act to create an interstate trade commission has been drawn, designed to take the place of the bill to prohibit interstate interlocking directorates, holding companies, stock-watering, the leasing of railroad securities, and to solve the problem of destructive competition. It would provide that all interstate trade commission, directing an exhaustive study of the subject for the purpose of recommending legislation.

Wilson Said to Favor. President Wilson is known to have said tonight, has had this solution of the problem presented to him, and advised the preparation of the bill. He is on it with favor. The president tonight could not be reached for comment. Senator Joseph T. Robinson, of Arkansas, a member of the subcommittee of the interstate commerce committee, especially assigned to work out the trust legislative program, made a frank statement tonight of his view of the matter.

"There are some radical differences," said Senator Robinson, "between the trade commission bill now being reported by the house committee on interstate and foreign commerce, and the bill tentatively agreed on by the senate committee which has had some preparation of the bill. I believe a trade commission should be created with broad powers, and as a result of this belief it is my belief that a bill now will be reported to the senate which will make the commission in many respects an independent body with liberal powers."

"In my opinion, it is within the range of possibility that this proposed trade commission may be vested with authority to investigate the relation to commerce of interlocking directorates, holding companies, stock-watering, the leasing of railroad securities, and price discriminations which tend to destroy competition, and that measures affecting these subjects may be recommended until the proposed commission can investigate them and report its findings and recommendations to congress."

"However, in so far as I am informed, no policy of this character is being actively in contemplation. It is true that there are many bills of this nature requiring attention, including the bill to create an interstate trade commission to deal with the next session of congress. Any members in both houses who are conversant with the subject are naturally in favor of the whole subject being concluded during this session, but it is not probable that any such action can be taken. The bill of the proposed trade commission is not determined until next session."

Despondent Because He Was Duet of Work, Chorus Girl Attempts to End Her Life. Despondent and tired of living, because her boy husband could not secure enough work to make a living for them, Nellie Johnson, the pretty 22-year-old chorus girl, wife of L. M. Johnson, swallowed the contents of a bottle of tincture of belladonna Friday morning in her room at the Edgewood hotel, at 1415 Edgewood avenue, and as her husband entered the room and found her lying on the bed, she pointed out to him a letter she had written, in which she told him why she had taken the poison, and declared that he was the sweetest man in all the world.

The girl was rushed to the Grady hospital about 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon, after physicians summoned to her bedside had given her medical attention for several hours. She is reported in a dying condition by the doctors at the Grady hospital, but having regained consciousness since her arrival at the hospital.

Her husband stated to the hospital that he could not tell why his young wife had tried to take her life. "We have always loved one another," he stated. "I got up early Saturday morning to go to the postoffice to see if an important letter I was expecting had arrived. On my return, I found Nellie lying on the bed and noticed that she had changed her clothing, and that she had powdered her face and arranged her hair. "Beside her was a glass, and when I asked her what was in it, she stated that it was some wine that a friend had given her."

HUERTA MAKES APOLOGY FOR ARREST OF AMERICANS

To Be Made to the United States

Mexican Dictator Promises a Thorough Investigation of the Affair at Tampico and Punishment for the Guilty Officer.

Washington, April 11.—(Special.)—William J. Harris, chairman of the state democratic executive committee, is a possibility in the race for governor. Since the announcement of Governor Hester that he would not be a candidate for re-election, but would support the United States senate instead, friends of Mr. Harris have been urging him to run for governor.

Supporters in northwest Georgia, where he formerly lived, told Mr. Harris that their section had been worse treated than any other part of the state in regard to the distribution of state officers. Not in years, they reminded him, has a governor or statesman of the state from that part of the state—northwest of Cobb county.

Asked about the reports from Georgia that he might aspire to the governorship, Mr. Harris replied, "I have received a great many letters from my friends, and on my recent visit to the state for the meeting of the state executive committee, numbers of my friends pledged me their support, but I discouraged the suggestion. However, since my return, I have continued to receive cordial letters proffering support."

"At least you have taken the matter of being a candidate under consideration," he was asked.

"I won't say, but naturally one can't ignore such generous expressions of confidence," he replied.

Mr. Harris was one of the most active leaders for President Wilson in Georgia, and has been honored by the new administration with one of the choicest berths in Washington. It would be a fitting recognition of his services to the state.

His friends believe that the future political course of Representative Gordon Lee, his friend, will be the result of his being seriously contemplating making the race for governor.

After Hearing the "Newly Discovered Evidence" Justice Goff Decides It Is Worthless and Refuses to Interfere With the Verdict.

EVIDENCE SUSPICIOUS, DECLARES JUDGE GOFF

He Wonders Why It Was Kept Concealed While the Gunmen Were on Trial and Then Sprung at the Last Moment—Goff Calls the New Evidence Worthless.

New York, April 11.—The last hope of the four gunmen condemned to die in the electric chair for the murder of Herman Rosenthal, the gambler, seemingly was blasted tonight when Supreme Court Justice John W. Goff, to whom a final appeal for a new trial had been made, declined to reopen their case.

Evidence of New Witnesses. At a prolonged hearing today, Justice Goff, who was the presiding judge at the gunmen's trial, listened to the testimony of new witnesses produced at the last moment by counsel for the doomed men. Late in the afternoon, after District Attorney Charles A. Whitman had been given the opportunity to object to the new evidence with testimony by witnesses of his own, Justice Goff took the case under advisement, announcing that he would render a decision tonight.

For more than four hours the justices sat in the courtroom for the day's proceedings. Then, shortly before 10 o'clock, he appeared at the door of his chambers and briefly and quietly announced to the waiting crowd of newspaper men that he had denied the application for a new trial, stating merely that his opinion would be given in the usual manner.

The Opinion of Judge Goff. Justice Goff, in his opinion, denying a new trial, stated that the application had been referred to him because the new evidence was so late that a new trial had been made before the justice was present at the trial. He continued: "Were it possible, in the sense of the law, to allow the new evidence to be heard, I would have no objection to it. But the law would be employed and that I would be bound to follow. I would be bound to follow the law and the law would be employed and that I would be bound to follow."

"SOROSIS SHOES"

A great writer says: "When you change your shoes you change your mind," and further says, "Americans are the best shod people on earth. Most of us, even common folk, have different shoes for different occasions. It's better for our feet, and better for our heads, as it lifts our self-respect. When you change your shoes you change your mind."

That people are wearing different shoes for different occasions is certainly a trend in the right direction. Some day practically every man and woman will buy shoes that way as a matter of economy. Shoes worn only for the purpose intended and changed often, wear more than twice as long, aside from the improved appearance by wearing the right shoe at the right time. For tomorrow we ask the women of Atlanta to see the new Spring styles "Sorosis" shoes. MARIETTA, GA.

Miss Mary Lillian Warren, of Kansas City, and Miss Theo Proctor, of Atlanta, who are the guests of Miss Cora Brown, were given a beautiful luncheon by Miss Brown, to which Misses Jean Wallace, Alice Wellons, Mildred Brown, Agnes Smith and Annie Field were invited. There was a delightful appropriation in the spring blossoms used and the centerpiece was a gold loving cup filled with branches of forsythia. A dainty luncheon was served, and it was in every way a charming occasion.

Mrs. Howard Perkins' splendid party Wednesday for Mrs. Doreen Towers and Mrs. Chandler Jones was a pretty affair. To these popular visitors, invited to meet them were Mrs. Charlie Trammell, Mrs. Alban Gilbert, Miss Lillian Guber and Mrs. James O. Watson.

Miss Bertha Hughes, formerly of Marietta, was married to Mr. Geo. Leslie Cooper in Atlanta last Saturday. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Russell K. Smith, at the rectory of the Church of the Redeemed in Inman Park. Mrs. Bimmonds, a sister of the bride, went down to meet the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Walter McKinney were also present. Mr. and Mrs. Cooper have gone to housekeeping in a pretty home in West End. Mrs. Cooper was formerly employed in the Marietta postoffice and has many friends here who wish her happiness.

Mrs. Mack D. Hodges entertained at a party on Friday afternoon. The honor guests being Mrs. Chandler Jones and Mrs. Doreen Towers. A salad course and ice cream were served after the game.

Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Northcutt have issued invitations to the marriage of their daughter, Irene Eloise, to Mr. John Harold Hawkins, the wedding to take place at the Baptist church on April 22, at 2 o'clock. Miss Mary Marston, 22, at 2 o'clock. The bride's maid of honor, will be Mrs. Grady Conway, of Atlanta, will be maid of honor. The bridesmaids will be Misses Pauline Collins and Edna Barrett, of Acworth, and Miss Willie May Blair. The best man will be Mr. George Edwards, and the groomsmen will be Messrs. William Holland, Norman Collins and Alvin Smith, of Atlanta. Little Miss Sarah Frances and Elizabeth Northcutt, nieces of the bride, will act as flower girls, and her little brother, Douglas Northcutt, will be ring bearer. Messrs. Ralph Norwood, Carl Butler, Lindsey Camp and Grady Conway, of Atlanta, will be in the front row. The bride's parents will entertain the reception immediately following the ceremony.

Mrs. John Boston and Miss Lula McMichael entertained the teachers of the public schools on Tuesday afternoon in a "P" party. Easter cards were used to keep the score, and growing hyacinths were used as decorations. An Easter chick appeared on each plate, and there were other suggestions of this beautiful season in the refreshments served.

Mrs. T. M. Bramley, Jr., gave a beautiful buffet luncheon on Tuesday of last week in honor of her guest, Mrs. C. R. Skinner, of St. Louis. About fifty ladies were present. Mrs. Skinner, Mrs. Inman Gray and Mrs. Gail of Atlanta, also attended. Pink roses and violets were used in decorating and the menu was delicious.

Mrs. George Anderson and Mrs. Seawell gave a party on Tuesday, April 1, with merry suggestions of the spirit of the season. The refreshments and viands were used as decorations, and dainty viands were used in the form of yellow dices and were done by the guests upon being seated. A dainty luncheon was served, after which some amusing toasts were given. A search for hidden words was given. A search for hidden words was given. A search for hidden words was given.

Mrs. Morris was the prize for finding the largest number, and Mrs. Chandler Jones the booty prize.

Lily Prize Box Rules of Contest

To the person sending in the most artistic assembled Lily and Rabbit will be given a box with seats for six at the Lyric for an evening's production of "The Lily."

The next twenty-five contestants in point of artistic work will each be given two orchestra seats at the Lyric for a production of "The Lily."

The contest closes at noon on Monday, when all entries must be in this office.

LILY CONTEST EDITOR

Atlanta, Ga.

In every advertisement on this page is part of a magnificent Easter Lily, photographed from nature, and upheld by an Easter Rabbit.

Prizes will be awarded Constitution readers who send by noon on Monday the neatest and most complete pictures of the Lily and rabbit, assembled from the pieces in the ads.

The prizes for this contest will be a box and fifty orchestra seats at the performances of "The Lily" by the Lucille LaVerne company, which opens a spring and summer engagement in stock at the Lyric Monday evening.

"The Lily" is one of David Belasco's best and strongest plays. It never has been seen before in Atlanta, and never before has been offered to the public at less than two dollars admission. The LaVerne company is of the highest character, and Jake Wells sends this company here out of compliment to Atlanta, while entertaining the Shriners and other big conventions this summer. It is a stock company of rare talent, having spent last summer playing for sixteen weeks in Richmond, playing to crowded houses at every performance.

Marguerite Chaffee, who is at the head of this company as leading lady, is an Atlanta girl and a graduate of the Girls' High school. Scores of her old friends already have signified their intentions to enter the contest out of compliment to her. Miss Chaffee has been in the Belasco and Frohman schools and companies for twelve or fourteen years, and has gained distinction in New York. There are fifteen first-class artists in her company. Every man in the ensemble is a college man, Oxford, Harvard and Yale being the leaders represented.

The Lyric has been placed in the very acme of perfect condition for the engagement of this company. It is equipped with a cool air ventilating system that pumps fresh, clean, cool air in every second and takes out the old air. The side doors opening on streets over which little or no traffic goes at night may be left open during every performance. It is the ideal summer house, and with a company of this high rank and ability will undoubtedly prove popular this summer.

As the season progresses it is intended to introduce the visiting star system and among those already booked are Edna Goodrich, Laurette Taylor, Robert Edeson and others. During Shriners' week it is the plan to have Tom Wise re-enact his original hit, "Are You a Mason?"

Three Attractive New Residences in Atlanta

Top left: This is the handsome new home of James H. Whitten, which has just been completed, and into which he has just moved, on Peachtree road near Lakeview drive.

Miss Lella Whitburn is the architect of this artistic residence and Mr. Whitten himself is the builder. The residence is of gray pressed brick veneer construction, the interior being finished with hardwood throughout. Mr. Whitten, in building his new home, declared that he was striving to build something just a little different from the general run of residences. So well has he succeeded that he himself does not know how he built one very striking and puzzling architectural feature of his new home. This feature consists of a 24-foot by 4-inch arch along his front porch without a girder. This arch is built of ordinary size brick and the secret of how it holds together has puzzled more than one of the leading architects of the city.

Mr. Whitten simply conceived of the beauty of such an arch and asked his brickmason if he could build it. His brickmason said he would try. He did try, with remarkable success, and now he refuses to tell even Mr. Whitten how he accomplished the remarkable architectural feat.

Top right: The residence of Charles H. Black, on Peachtree road, which was damaged by fire some weeks since, is now being rebuilt. The reconstruction of it is of gray granite veneer which, contrasted against the dark foliage of the grounds, will present a very striking and impressive appearance.

Bottom picture: The beautiful residence of E. J. Haverly, on Peachtree road, just toward of the creek, is now practically complete but for landscape gardening, which is now being done.

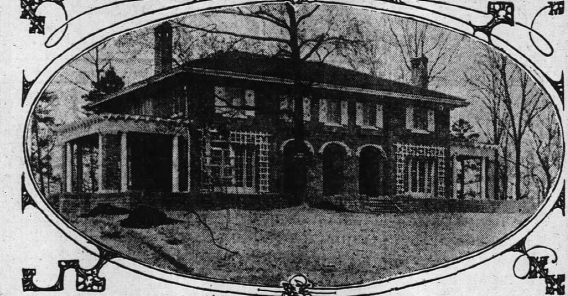

The house is built of tapestry brick. E. E. Dougherty is the architect and the Pittman Construction company are the builders.

The landscape gardener who is doing Mr. Haverly's grounds is Franz Schwalbe, and he is doing wonders in the gorge that runs back of Mr. Haverly's house.

W. E. Brown & Co. are the interior decorators of the house.

It is expected to have the house complete by May 1.

The big feature of his house, upon which Mr. Haverly prides himself, is the fact that this house is what he calls an "all Atlanta house." Every contract, from the architect who made the first line of preliminary drawings to the dryman who hauls the last load of debris from the site after the house is completed, was let to Atlanta people. Every stick of material that could possibly be bought in Atlanta, even to the shrubs for his flower garden, Mr. Haverly purchased right here in Atlanta.

Plan of Big Industrial Building for Atlanta Is Meeting With Great Deal of Encouragement; Chamber of Commerce Committee to Present Plans

The industrial and statistical bureau of the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce is receiving considerable encouragement in its scheme for the erection of a sort of community industrial building in Atlanta. That there is a demand for just such a building in Atlanta is evidenced by the manner in which manufacturing concerns have been driven to seek loft space in buildings which are not always best suited to manufacturing purposes. The success of such buildings has been demonstrated in other cities. Most certainly such a building would induce foreign manufacturing concerns to come to Atlanta.

Already something has been said about the plans of the industrial and statistical bureau for this building. Here is exactly what the bureau has in mind.

Secretary W. H. Leahy has been investigating particularly with reference to the construction and operation of Baltimore's big industrial building. The city of Atlanta has a more varied line of manufacturing industries than any city in the south. A large number of them are houses in different parts of the city in buildings holding five or six. A number of other concerns are prospective, or, in other words, negotiating for location of their business in Atlanta.

It is with a view of economically housing the smaller manufacturing concerns in a building built especially for the purpose that the proposition is being considered. Modern buildings designed to house a number of industries are an economic development. One of the great obstacles between the small manufacturer and success has been the difficulty in obtaining space at a reasonable rental where modern and economic manufacturing conditions were present.

Economy a Feature.

A building of this kind offers cheap power, abundant light, absolute fire protection, low insurance rates, efficient elevator service and healthful surroundings for operatives. It would provide every facility required for low cost production and the small manufacturer, enjoys every advantage in this regard that may be obtained by the larger manufacturer, placing him on a basis on which he can successfully compete without the necessity of large capital expenditure.

The rates for electric power in Atlanta are the lowest of any of the larger cities in the south and the industrial building by contracting for electric power could obtain wholesale rates by which every tenant would benefit as each would have his individual meter and would be billed for the consumption of current as shown by it at the wholesale rates earned by the building. In the case of Baltimore, it is less than one-third of the rate paid by the small manufacturers scattered throughout the city. This would represent a considerable saving to tenants.

Abundant light and air would be provided, insuring illumination and ventilation to all parts of the building. It would be planned to use no wood in the construction of the building. The entire building would be equipped with sprinklers and water damage resulting from fire or otherwise would be obvented. Tenants would pay only for the space needed. Every facility for all kinds of manufacture would be provided which should be installed in a building of this character.

The plan has been worked out very successfully in the city of Baltimore. The soundness of the project, its manifest advantages and the facilities offered resulted in attracting immediately manufacturers to the building. In a year's time the entire space of Baltimore's building, 17,700 square feet of space was rented. The directors having met with this favorable result in the working out of a project new to Baltimore, the tenants having expressed themselves as satisfied with their locations and the facilities offered by the industrial building, several have made known their desire to increase the space leased, the attention of the board was directed to the erection of an adjoining unit upon a lot adjoining the ground owned by the company. It was decided to build the additional unit, and it is now in course of construction.

The great advantage of such an institution, as outlined, to the city of Atlanta is obvious. The proposition is receiving careful consideration at the hands of the industrial and statistical committee and Secretary Leahy states that the project is in high favor, and that a plan will be worked out and presented at an early date.

NEW REALTY COMPANY IN HEALY BUILDING

The Reeves-Clint Realty company, a new real estate firm, has just opened offices at Nos. 321-3 Healy building.

This firm is composed of J. G. Reeves and W. L. Clint, who have separately been in the real estate business in Atlanta for several years, and are thoroughly familiar with values in all parts of the city.

The Reeves-Clint Realty company will do a general real estate and loan business, and will have an expert at the head of each department.

The six partners of the new firm are F. M. Tessier and S. A. Given, both experienced real estate men, and the company consists of eight experienced salesmen. This number will soon be increased to twelve or fifteen men.

The Reeves-Clint Realty company has a large office in the Healy building, and is ready to receive calls for real estate business in all parts of the city.

OGLETHORPE PARK LOTS WILL BE AUCTIONED OFF

Edwin P. Ansley Will Conduct Sale Monday Afternoon at 3 O'Clock.

The auction of Oglethorpe Park residence lots will be held by the Edwin P. Ansley firm next Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Oglethorpe Park is being promoted by Edwin P. Ansley, who planned and projected Ansley Park, one of the most exclusive residential colonies of the aristocratic north side. Wide areas of beautiful country home sites will be auctioned off to the highest bidder in the Oglethorpe Park sale.

Oglethorpe Park is situated on Peachtree Road, and near the site for the proposed Oglethorpe university. It adjoins Brookhaven club, which has been taken over by the Capital City Country club, and is being constructed into the most beautiful country club site in the south.

Oglethorpe Park was planned along the line of the back-to-nature idea which is fast becoming popular with the wealthy business man of the big cities. It is situated in one of the most picturesque country territories within this section of the state, and is within only a short distance from the heart of the city—only a few minutes by trolley car.

In announcing the auction sale, the Ansley firm proclaims the advantage of the proposed university, and of the Brookhaven territory, which has risen phenomenally in value within the past few years—ever since its home opportunities became realized.

Oglethorpe Park is considered by real estate experts to be one of the most promising realty developments in the north side of recent years. Regarding the efforts of Mr. Ansley, which played a prime part in the successful development of the land, the announcement of tomorrow's sale quotes the following excerpt from an editorial of The Constitution:

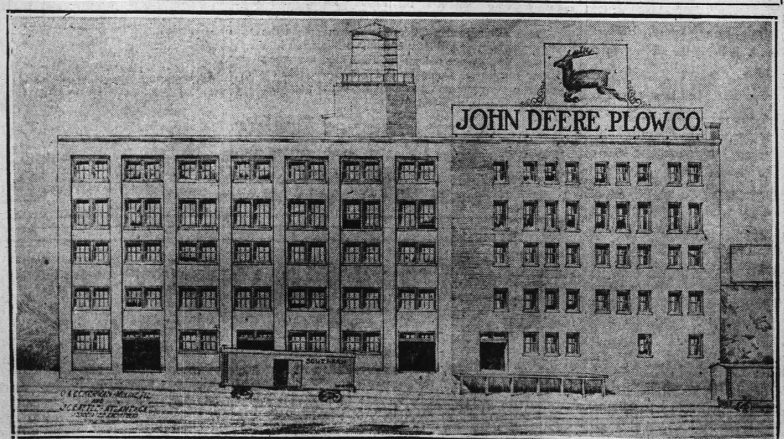

"Mr. Ansley is a man who does not go off half-cocked. He has only to point to the fact that he has done the phenomenal Ansley Park and Forsyth street projects to substantiate his testimony of his qualifications as a practical promoter of every enterprise he has attempted, he has proved to be an advanced agent of expansion and progress. His name is synonymous with success."

RULES OF THE CAMPAIGN

1. Fill out the nomination ballot found on editorial page of all issues of the Daily and Sunday Constitution, and send same to the Contest Department of the Constitution. Each contestant is entitled to one coupon good for 5 votes. Contestants may nominate themselves. They do not have to be subscribers to the Constitution. It costs nothing to enter this contest, and obligations are involved in doing so. Send your name or that of a friend relative, today.

2. Any white woman in the territory covered by this paper is eligible to enter this great voting contest.

HOW VOTES ARE SECURED

3. Besides voting certificates issued on subscriptions, a daily ballot, for a certain number of votes, will be published in each issue unless otherwise announced. Each daily ballot printed will be limited and must be used before the expiration date printed thereon.

4. Candidates are not restricted to getting votes or subscriptions in their own particular district, but may secure subscriptions in any part of the United States; and if cash accompanies the order, voting certificates will be issued, but voting certificates will be issued only on cash-in-advance subscriptions.

5. Candidates in one district are not competing with candidates in other district, except in the instance of the grand prizes. The division of districts, as shown elsewhere in this paper, so equalizes competition that every candidate has an equal chance to win.

6. No votes will be allowed on subscriptions held more than one week after being secured by contestants. Subscriptions must be turned promptly, together with the money collected on them. Votes will be issued when the money is received, but the contestants may retain these votes a cast then whenever they wish within the rules.

7. No votes will be issued on subscription payments less than the amounts stipulated in the voting schedule.

8. Votes will not be allowed on arrears unless the payment is sufficient to bring the subscription account up to date and at least six months in advance of the date when payment is made. In such instances votes may be issued for the full amount paid on old subscriptions, according to the schedule.

9. On payments other than those scheduled, votes will be issued according to the scheduled amount next below the amount so paid.

10. Ballots cannot be bought. They can be obtained only by subscribing and preparing a subscription to the Constitution or by cutting daily ballot from the paper.

11. To insure being counted all daily ballots must be neatly trimmed, uniform size, fastened together and sent in flat. Do not fold the ballots.

FILL OUT THE TOP

12. In sending in daily ballots it is unnecessary to fill out more than the top ballot in each package. Then write on this ballot the number of votes the package contains. Contestants who fail to comply with this rule will accept the count of the contest department of the Constitution as final. They do not acknowledge the receipt of daily ballots unless an error is discovered in your count.

13. Only one nomination ballot good for 5,000 votes is placed to the credit of each candidate in the published score. Daily ballots are also credited the published score. Voting certificates are issued on subscriptions only. Each publication of daily ballots will be final, except in case of typographical error or mistake of the contest department. It is impossible to have all daily ballots and they will be destroyed three days after date of publication.

14. By the filing of votes all contestants must accept and agree to the conditions.

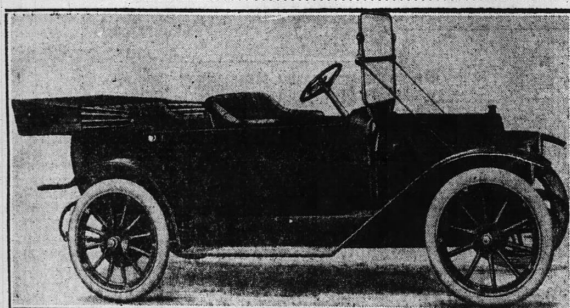

15. Votes once issued to one contestant cannot be transferred to another.

16. No voting certificates can be cast for publication and the subscriptions upon which they were issued used in making up clubs then forming.

17. Votes issued in error will be declared void by the campaign department of the Constitution and thrown out if cast.

18. Neither salaried employees of the Constitution nor their immediate families can enter the contest.

19. In case of a tie, prizes of equal value will be given to those tying.

GEORGIA'S CREDIT IS IN SPLENDOR SHAPE

State Treasurer Speer's Report
Will Disclose a Most Gratifying
State of Affairs.

In the annual report to the legislature, now in course of preparation, State Treasurer W. J. Speer is calling particular attention to Georgia's splendid credit.

He discusses the temporary loan made by the state to tide it over the period when tax money was scarce, and which for the first time in the state's history was in excess of $100,000. Under the new constitutional amendment the state borrowed this time $150,000 for temporary relief, and every dollar of it was immediately repaid in paying what was due the public school teachers of the state as far as it would go.

Borrowed at 3 Per Cent.
The entire sum was borrowed from six national banks in Atlanta at 3 per cent interest at a time when they were getting 4 and 5 per cent from good customers. These six banks voluntarily made the entire loan at this rate.

Two of them are not state depositories and have no other holding in the state aside from a desire to assist in so far as circumstances will permit them to protect the state's credit. At the time this loan was made these same banks were paying themselves 4 1/2 to 5 per cent for money for their own use, so that it will be apparent from the time which they maintained that they could have had no other motive than a patriotic action.

Credit on High Plane.
Mr. Speer calls attention to the fact that Georgia's credit is on a plane as high as that of any state in the union. Her bonds whenever they are placed on the market are bought and profitable investments from all parts of the country have always brought a good premium in the market.

"It is a fact greatly to Georgia's credit that Georgia has never in all her history failed to sell her bonds for the full face value, which is due to unusual confidence in Georgia and her credit around her public debt by the entire nation. The provisions of the state constitution."

The remarkable credit which the state possesses is great strength to the treasurer points out, by the fact that under the state constitution the public property of Georgia, which includes the Western and Atlantic railroad, estimated to be worth $20,000,000, is held as security for the bonds which bear Georgia's name.

Rheumatic Throat Is Common Trouble

Should Be Treated in Blood
To Prevent Recurrence.

There are successful people that stop progress in the throat, but to prevent, however return, the blood must be put in motion. The best remedy is S. S. S., as it influences all the functions of the body to eliminate the irritants or waste products and to stimulate their excretion through the proper channels.

Rheumatic sore throat is a dangerous infection, as it means that the blood is loaded with more uric acid than the kidneys can excrete, and will thus lead to serious general disturbance.

The action of S. S. S. stimulates cellular activity. It prevents the accumulation of uric acid in local spots, and causes the arteries to supply quickly the new red blood cells.

For this reason uric acid that finds the throat as its way out is broken down, is influenced, is watered and eliminated. In this way the uric acid is removed from the blood, and the blood is purified by enabling all the various filigees of the body to secrete healthy matter. The influence is shown in a marked improvement of the bronchial tubes, the elimination of voice with this, giving excretion in overcome. A blood bath, such as it is welcome to any stomach and at once into the blood.

S. S. S. is free of all minerals and contains no harmful ingredients, and is recommended by the medical profession to be used in all cases.

You can get it at any drug store, but do not accept anything else. There is danger in cheap imitations. S. S. S. is sold by the Swift-Specific Co., 1231 Swift Bldg., Chicago, Ill. Our Medical Dept. will give free instruction by mail on any subject of blood diseases. Write today.

President W. B. Hunter Tells of Value of Distribution
This Year.

The advantages of distributing the fruit crop of 1914, which promises to be a bumper one, is set forth in a most pleasing manner in an article which has just been written by President W. B. Hunter, of the Georgia Fruit exchange.

He presents most interesting data and facts showing the result of the proper handling and distribution of past peach crops through the medium of this organization. The article is addressed primarily to those growers who are not new members of the fruit exchange, pointing out the great benefit to be derived through marketing their 1914 crop through the medium of this co-operative organization.

He points out that it is really the members of the Georgia Fruit exchange who are independent rather than those who are not members of the exchange. He proves the independence of the members by showing how they are relieved of all details incident to the sale of their crop from the time it is ready for market until it is sold and one high price received are sent to the grower.

He shows how the exchange keeps its finger on the pulse of the peach market, thus obtaining any concession in the market which would have a tendency to decrease the price of peaches in that market.

He points out that through this co-operative plan the grower is relieved of all of the worrying details. For this splendid co-operative service, the grower is relieved of all details incident to the sale of their crop from the time it is ready for market until it is sold and one high price received are sent to the grower.

CANARIES TO SING AT EASTER SERVICE AT FIRST CHRISTIAN

By singing Easter songs at a special service at the First Christian church Sunday morning, a number of orphan boys and girls from the Christian orphanage in West End will make a unique appeal for aid. Easter Sunday has been set aside by all the churches of the Christian denomination in America for taking a special offering for the orphan homes and other charitable institutions supported by the church.

The special songs by the orphans have been planned as a result of the children's own suggestion that they wanted to go to the church to sing on the day the offering was taken and tell the folks what they needed. They have been practicing their songs now for over a week, and are planning to convince the folks that they ought to give all the money they can spare to help the orphanage which is located at 229 Lee street, and furnish a home now for about thirty-five orphan children.

Another interesting feature of Easter morning at the First Christian Sunday school will be the presence of many canary birds, which will be arranged around the auditorium in cages. As soon as the orphans begin singing the canaries are expected to sing also, according to their characteristic of singing whenever music is started.

REV. A. M. PIERCE HELPS IN REVIVAL SERVICES

Rev. A. M. Pierce, of Cedarburg, will assist Rev. G. M. Eakes, pastor of the St. John M. E. church, in a series of old-time revival services beginning Sunday. Dr. Pierce has been preaching each day during the past week, and his services have attracted exceptional large congregations.

Dr. Eakes will hold short services Sunday morning with the Sunday school at 9:30 o'clock in the morning, and at 3 o'clock in the afternoon. Pastor Eakes will preach to men and boys only.

Surely try "Dandere Hair Cleaner" if you wish to immediately double the beauty of your hair. Just moisten with Dandere and draw it out. A small strand at a time, this will clean, condition, and beautify your hair. It is a few minutes you will know all about it. Just as overcoat and abundant and possess an incomparable softness, lustre and luxuriance.

Besides beautifying the hair, one application of Dandere disintegrates the particles of dandruff; invigorates the scalp, stopping itching and falling hair. Dandere is to the hair what fresh air is to the lungs. It goes right to the roots, invigorates and feeds the hair, and keeps it from falling out. It is a life-giving property, causing the hair to grow thick and healthy.

You can surely have pretty, soft, lustrous hair of any color, if you will just get a 25-cent bottle of Knowlton's Dandere. You will find it at any drug store or toilet counter and try it as directed.

THE CAMPAIGN

20. The Constitution will recognize no promise either written or verbal made by agents, solicitors or canvassers contrary to the published rules and regulations governing this contest.

21. The right is reserved to reject the name of any candidate for cause, or to alter these rules and regulations should occasion demand.

22. Any question that may arise between the contestants will be decided by the campaign manager and his decision will be final.

23. This contest officially begins April 12 and ends at midnight June 27, 1914.

SUBSCRIPTION RULES

24. Anyone taking The Constitution regularly when the contest was announced, April 5, 1914, will be classed as an old subscriber. A subscription will not be counted as new if it is simply transferred from one member of the family or household to another, or individual to firm or corporation, or vice versa.

A second paper ordered delivered to an address at which the paper was regularly delivered at the time the contest was announced will be considered as new only on payment of an equal amount or more made on the subscription originally going to that address. Exceptions may be made to this rule in the case of boarders and roomers. But The Constitution reserves the right to decide all such cases. Any combination of circumstances by which The Constitution does not gain a subscriber, the subscription cannot and will not be classed as new. A subscription which is new when first payment is made will be considered new on any subsequent payment during the contest.

TWO-YEAR SUBSCRIPTIONS

25. Subscriptions will not be taken for a longer period than two years in advance.

26. No votes will be issued on subscription payments made direct to The Constitution or its agents unless a request for votes is made at the time of payment and the name of the candidate for whom said votes are to be cast is given.

27. Contestants may replace a subscription or subscriptions, turned in as new and found to be old, and count same in the club offer in effect at the time that the original subscription is sent in, provided such subscription or subscriptions are sent in within three days from the time contestant is notified of the facts.

28. Contestants having subscriptions to apply on a club offer and being unable to get the letter postmarked in time, may telephone or telegraph the contest department the exact amount of remittance they are sending, before midnight of date upon which the club offer expires, and that amount will be counted in the period then in effect; provided the amount is forwarded by first following mail. But such telephone or telegraph tolls must be paid by the sender.

29. Contestants will not be permitted to offer The Constitution at less than the regular subscription price.

SUBSCRIPTION BALLOT NO. 1.

Between the dates of May 2 and May 9, a special ballot good for 25,000 votes additional to the regular scale will be issued to each candidate turning in or mailing to this office a new subscription. This ballot will only be issued on one subscription, and only one ballot credited to each candidate.

SUBSCRIPTION BALLOT NO. 2.

Between the dates of May 9 and 16, a special ballot for 25,000 votes additional to the regular scale will be issued to each candidate turning in 45.00 worth of new subscriptions. Only one ballot will be credited to each candidate.

BONUS PERIODS.

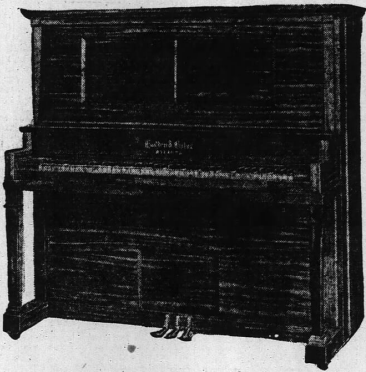

First bonus period will be in effect from May 16 to May 30. During this period a certificate for 50,000 additional votes will be issued upon every club of $15.00 worth of new yearly subscriptions, or a certificate for 150,000 additional votes will be issued upon every club of $45.00 worth of new yearly subscriptions. Candidates are not limited as to the number of clubs they may secure, but may secure as many as possible.

The second bonus period will be in effect from May 30 until June 6, and will be as follows: For every club of $10.00 worth of new subscriptions turned in or mailed to this office between the above dates a certificate for 20,000 additional votes will be issued. These clubs may be composed of new subscriptions for three and six months as well as yearly subscriptions.

The third bonus period will be effective from June 6 to 12, and will be as follows: For every club of $14.00 worth of new subscriptions turned in or mailed to this office between the above dates, a certificate for 150,000 extra votes will be issued.

Last bonus offer will be in effect from June 12 to 20. During this period a certificate for 100,000 additional votes will be issued to every candidate turning in or mailing to this office a club of $24.00 worth of new subscriptions.

All bonus votes are additional to the regular scale of votes issued upon paid-in-advance subscriptions. The regular scale of votes will not be changed.

Notice to Subscription Agents

Subscription Agents, Postmasters, etc., sending subscriptions to The Daily and Sunday Constitution, on which votes are to be issued, must remit full amount of subscription. No commission will be allowed when votes are to be issued. No deviation from this rule. The special annual rate for rural route delivery will prevail during this contest as heretofore, and votes will be issued on such subscriptions according to price paid, as shown in schedule of votes.

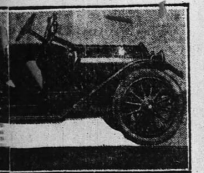

A booklet explaining all the rules of the contest, full and complete instructions, subscription rates and voting power of same, will be off the press within a few days, and each contestant will be furnished with one as well as a supply of blanks and receipt books.

Send in your nomination or that of a relative or friend today and have your name recorded as a contestant. You can then begin early in piling up votes and continue until the end, which may win you one of the most valuable prizes in this contest.

Look for a daily story in The Constitution concerning this great contest, which will be a great aid to contestants.

Nomination blank and voting coupon will be found elsewhere in this issue.

GEORGIA FEDERATION OF WOMEN'S CLUBS

Pine Forest Campfire Club of Tifton

MRS. PETERSON WRITES OF EXTENSIVE WORK

Much Work Accomplished by Committee Since Annual Convention at Culberr.

Since the annual meeting in Culberr last fall, when we were so beautifully entertained by the young ladies of the town, I have been impressed with the fact that one of the best features of club life is the young lives that are being made useful in all lines of work. In visiting the clubs I find many, especially the new ones, made up largely of young ladies.

The Adel Woman's club and the Duluth Home and School Improvement club are the two most organized. There are a number of young ladies in the Adel club, the president and secretary being among the number.

Active Club at Tifton.
I have recently visited the Butler and Reynolds clubs. The one at Reynolds is new, and many of the members accomplished more in the short time of time since its inception. This is a good sign of the future of the club, and it is a beautiful example of the work that can be done by a club in a short time.

We are getting ready for the school fair in May. This is strictly for the rural schools, and we want it to be great. Have raised $100 from our merchants to give in prizes. This will be a new year in club work, and it will be difficult for any club in the state to reach us.

Vice President State Federation.

Mrs. Fitzpatrick Praises Work of Mrs. Bolling Jones As General Federation Sec.

Truly this has been the banner year for the general federation in Georgia, and all praise is due to the general federation state secretary, Mrs. Bolling Jones. She has just closed what might be termed a whirlwind campaign for membership in the general federation.

Since January 23 she has led ten new clubs into the general federation with a membership of over 700. In this campaign she has not only fulfilled the purpose of her office by setting forth the real value of the general federation, but she has also promoted the interests of the general federation as well as that of the general federation.

It is a pity Mrs. Jones has reached the time limit for this biennial year. April—just as the clubs are most interested. At any rate, we now have twenty-one clubs, with over 1,500 members in direct membership with the general federation, which means close bonds with the mother organization.

We congratulate and thank our secretary for her splendid work.

IDA H. FITZPATRICK,
President Georgia Federation of Women's Clubs.

Dr. J. J. Hall Commends Efforts of Miss Baxter Towards Universal Peace

Dear Miss Baxter: It is with great pleasure I give this word of heartiest approval for the good work you are doing in promoting the world's peace.

I have just returned from a visit to other southern states and it is exceedingly gratifying to see how state after state is falling in line in the observance of Peace day; and in the general interest being awakened in our great cause. You have assured that both the American Peace society and the Georgia Peace society will stand with you in all the work you are doing in the name of the Federation of Women's Clubs of Georgia.

At 12:30 the art department luncheon will be held, the number limited to 25 and fifty. This will be a "Talk-and-eat" affair, and the menu will be served simultaneously, the subject for discussion being "How Can We Bring the Influence of Beauty and Art to the Children of America?" Georgia's Rank at the Biennial

As the time for the biennial convention of women's clubs approaches, Georgia club women should be very much concerned about the place their state will occupy among the others represented. Two important responsibilities that have not been adequately met are the endowment fund and the subscribers to the General Federation Magazine.

Georgia is obligated to raise $2,000 as her assessment to the general federation endowment fund. This could easily have been done if the club had conscientiously contributed the 25 cents per capita they so readily pledged at the Culberr annual meeting. Not half the clubs of the state have responded, and the books will be closed on May 1.

Unless the clubs do meet this duty promptly Georgia will not be placed in the class with the best at the biennial, and Georgia's president will be subjected to a humiliation hard for her to bear, and that each of Georgia's delegates will share.

The time is very short, but prompt attention to securing the 25 cents per capita at the April meeting of each club that has not responded will raise the necessary amount, place Georgia in the first rank and make your president proud and happy.

Our columns today publish letters from Mrs. Fitzpatrick, voicing her gratification in the result of Mrs. Bolling Jones' campaign for membership in the general federation, and expressing her wish for Georgia to have more subscribers to the General Federation Magazine.

There is a special biennial premium offer of one hundred dollars in gold: Fifty dollars to the state sending in the largest number of subscriptions according to club population, and a cup to the state president.

Thirty dollars to the club sending in the largest number of subscriptions, according to its membership.

Twenty dollars to the individual sending in the largest number of subscriptions.

Contest closes June 1, and prizes will be awarded at the biennial. To entitle a subscriber to any particular club, it must be specified at the time subscription is sent in. Subscribers will be accredited to the different states, according to their addresses.

Any individual or club sending subscriptions of five or more at the same or different times may retain a discount of 25 cents on each subscription.

The investment of one dollar for this publication is surely worth while for every woman who wants to have the knowledge and inspiration that come from regularly reading the official organ of the greatest organization of women in the world.

No clubwoman who wishes to be up to date concerning club and federation work and ideals can afford to be without the General Federation Magazine.

If you would like to be supplied with the best club literature, subscribe for this magazine at this address: General Federation Magazine (Inc.), No. 25 West Forty-second street, New York city.

Municipal House Cleaning

By instituting an annual cleaning-up day it was hoped to obtain two-fold results—clean, healthy, beautiful cities, and awakened civic interest in the individuals composing our citizenship.

It is not enough to put our municipal homes in order at a stated time; we must keep things as they should be by follow-up work. This can be best done by cultivating personal responsibility.

There are being developed new workers who are intent upon co-operating with the city government to eventually overthrow the bad and install the good. The future will demonstrate that the city is a great corporation wherein every citizen is a stockholder, and officials are but chosen directors of the corporation subject to recall if the work is not well done.

Every city is awakening to the ideal, when the people have what they need—a city beautiful, clean streets, proper sanitation and health, parks, playgrounds, proper housing, music and art. Various civic organizations are active in directing the way to secure these things. New York has the municipal expenditure commission and Los Angeles the municipal league. These are examples of organizations which are both exposing the bad and recommending constructive measures which will be for the best good of the city.

A new day calls for a larger program, and everywhere men and women are working together for cities that are, in every part, beautiful, useful, healthy.

They are seeking to create those conditions which make not only for culture and social refinement, but for that equality of opportunity which is essential to the well-being of the citizens of the better city.

With women's innate love for that which is cleanly and beautiful, it is not surprising that they are taking an active part in the making of their towns safe, attractive places for the men, women and children.

The greatest single cause for human wretchedness is undoubtedly ill health. The intellectual and moral progress of a nation may be judged by the span of life of its inhabitants. Thus, the average length of a human life in India is twenty-five years, in the United States forty-five years. Length of life increases wherever sanitary science is applied. In India, it is stationery, the life span has been increased at the rate of twenty-seven years per century. The germ theory of disease is now half a century old and the flies, the fly and the mosquito are receiving serious consideration.

April is the month for the most effective campaign against the fly. If you kill the first flies that come, you will save the trouble of killing millions later. It requires education to realize that the extermination of the fly is one of the most effective means of securing health.

This pest cannot breed except in filth, thus away with the breeding places. Insist upon the removal and sanitary disposal of tin cans, garbage and refuse from streets, rear of stores and backyards. If we could only make people know that cleanliness is fatal to flies the health campaign would be won.

Art Department an Interesting Feature of Approaching Biennial

The art department promises a treat to the General Federation of Women's Clubs during the biennial convention, which will be held on Saturday morning, June 12, the chairman, Mrs. M. F. Johnson, will give her report, after which will present the art department, which will be in charge of the art department at the San Francisco exposition.

At 12:30 the art department luncheon will be held, the number limited to 25 and fifty. This will be a "Talk-and-eat" affair, and the menu will be served simultaneously, the subject for discussion being "How Can We Bring the Influence of Beauty and Art to the Children of America?" LANIER AFTERNOON SPENT BY HISTORY CLUB OF MACON

If Father Time had turned his flight backward and lifted the veil of mystery on Monday afternoon last at the meeting of the History club (with Mrs. Will Ginn) and Sidney Lanier could have stepped forth, he would have felt at last—at last, he had come to his own and we were recognizing him as a clear-sighted genius. That his work and influence were growing and that his name was becoming known to the program she spoke interestingly of Lanier's appreciation of art and beauty and his skill as a musician. Her appropriate introduction was followed by an excellent lecture.

Sidney Lanier's lecture at Johns Hopkins University, "The English Novel" were vividly discussed in the afternoon. The speaker, a professor of philosophy at Johns Hopkins, held a rare treat for the club. Dr. Harrison held his report attention from his lecture to the club.

Dr. Harrison held his report attention from his lecture to the club. He had just enough of criticism to make his address a real treat. His paper treated several of the lectures of the Lanier afternoon, but attributed to them much value as presentations of the Lanier afternoon. He also treated the Lanier afternoon of philosophy and art. However, the main portion of the treatment was devoted to the leading theme of the lecture, to wit, the Lanier afternoon of philosophy and art.

The author's presentation of the doctrine of the Lanier afternoon of philosophy and art was outlined. A lecture and sympathetically received. The speaker, a professor of philosophy at Johns Hopkins, held a rare treat for the club. Dr. Harrison held his report attention from his lecture to the club.

George Manning, the active left fielder, is always on the job and although small in stature is leading the team in batting with nearly .400. The outfield is very efficient and is composed of Liddell, Callaway and Jenigan. The above is the line-up which has faced its opponents in the forgoing games. Mott, Brisbane, and Cheves have also been in several of the County Hockey League's games. In the short time the team will be in their working order and then it will be able to put in their real work.

The team is very hard at work preparing for the United States government's annual inspection, which is to occur on the 20th of this month. The examination the corps will undergo will include the best exercises, battalion parade drill and inspection, guard mount, guard duty, company zone and extended order drill and schools of the policy and guard duty.

The commandant, Major E. R. Schmidt, has expressed his gratification of the corps' work and wishes the team to continue to improve.

On Thursday the annual military mass was held and in it many of our cadets took part and assumed important roles.

The cadets' athletic club has recently been formed at Marist, by the late Mr. Swager, club. Its membership is made up of the 100 or so cadets and commissioned officers of the battalion.

The club is now in the process of being elected and before long it is hoped the athletic outing can be planned for the club.

MANY CHILDREN ON HONOR ROLL
AT BATTLE HILL SCHOOL

The little fourth graders played Peewee football on the field in front of 'em all to pieces," as one little boy says.

The fifth grade team was the weekly spelling average, 93.7.

The fourth graders had a spelling test on the 29th of March, 1939. The children on the honor roll are:

Smith, Lois Kenny, Lizzie Bond, William Jones, James McNaught, Charles McNaught, John McNaught, Ruth Ewin, Velma Peak, Oscar Sheats and L. Adair.

The seventh grade class has divided into teams of four for spelling. The children in the Class remember the ones who never miss and the winners are in Class A.

The first to contest for the medal this month are Paul Dobbs and Louise Smith, the boys' team. The girls' team is Class A.

We are all bringing labels for Mr. Graves, who is working for the Y. M. C. A. in the Journal contest. Quite a number have been successful.

We have had quite a siege of chickenpox in the first and second grades. The children are all recovering, but by one, much to the delight of the teachers.

Horace Wood, Clifford and Horace Wood have received a most cordial welcome to our school this week. We hope they will soon feel at home among us.

an eloquent address during the evening. The contest in music and expression in the school auditorium last Friday afternoon was greatly enjoyed by all who heard the many excellent numbers so well rendered. The honors were carried off in expression by Miss Jamie Moore and in music by Miss Esther Wilburn first, and Miss Lois Kelly second. These young ladies will represent the Monticello High School at the forthcoming district meet in Macon.

The Artists Favorite

The artist's greatest need, the vibrating musical tone quality, which enables him to transmit his meaning to the audience, and a perfect adjustment of mechanism, make a tremendous combination. Kimball Pianos combine these qualities in the highest degree, hence their superiority and predominance on the concert stage, in the studio and in the homes of discerning music lovers. They are and are so universally recognized. The approval of the world's greatest pianists, singers, violinists, conductors and educators has ever signified MERIT. Hundreds of these artists and educators have indorsed the Kimball.

Perfect as Pianos—Perfect as Players

These wonderful instruments are available for every member of the family. The player mechanism in no way interferes with the use of the instrument manually. The pianist plays in the regular way, and others in the use of the music roll find perfect enjoyment in playing the music as they interpret or as the mood calls forth. They are the acme of melody.

Every Kimball instrument is marked in plain figures, showing the lowest price at which that instrument can be sold, according to the best merchandising. The inexperienced and the shrewd buyer here obtain the same value.

MUSIC ROLES Every style of music—classical, popular, operatic, sacred.

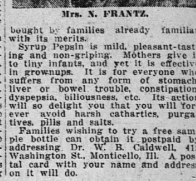

Exceptional values in used instruments, both Pianos and Players. Call or write for complete list.

Installment Terms are granted as may be necessary to accommodate those who do not wish to pay all cash.

REASONS FOR ATLANTA'S GROWTH:

Fourteen railroad systems---reaching every city and town in every direction, promoting commercialism throughout the entire United States.

The rapid emigration of the northern and western farmer to our vast area of farm lands. This state can hold two million more people on our farms alone.

There are nine different climates in the United States and Georgia has eight of them.

Within a radius of 300 miles of Atlanta, the bank deposits are over four hundred million.

Within the radius of 300 miles of Atlanta there are now ten millions of people.

Within a radius of 300 miles of Atlanta the resources are tremendous in minerals, farming, stock raising, lumbering---in fact, all of the pursuits of man, and these resources are not yet half developed.

Within 300 miles of Atlanta there are tremendous water powers. Some few have been developed, but there are many more to be developed, which means cheap power, and also means that this section will get many millions of investments in industries and manufacturing plants.

Atlanta is a Regional Bank City. A regional bank means that our farm lands are good collateral for loans. The REGIONAL BANK means the building up of many of the above mentioned resources.

Atlanta's bankers are bankers of the highest type, able to go into any financial centers and bringing to Atlanta any kind of financial aid when the occasion requires it.

Atlanta's men and women and their energy are really our greatest asset.

The consistent, careful saver, and the cautious investor, can always believe in Atlanta investments.

ATLANTA WILL STAY PUT.

The Panama Canal has caused every great railroad system to build or acquire a right-of-way through our section to the Gulf.

Commercialism of every type is swirling SOUTHWARD, until Atlanta is the headquarters of nearly every industry of the entire United States and of many foreign countries.

All of the above facts are fairly squeezing values into Atlanta property, and there is a greater percentage of high-salaried and profit-sharing men in Atlanta today than any other city in the United States of the same population.

The back-to-nature idea is the principle of country homes---out and away from the smoke and dust.

O GLETHORPE UNIVERSITY will be built.

S There will be 1,500 students and 100 instructors.

This will make a City.

A College Center is a refined, cultured body.

This means a small City where now only fog and bramble thickets exist.

The Capital City Country Club have taken over Brookhaven and are spending thousands of dollars adding to the beauty and making an 18-hole course.

The Capital City Club represents all the wealth, brains and hustle of our business life in Atlanta.

This crowd of men are doers of deeds and drawers of water.

They mean to have the best Country Club possible.

The north side is where our best values lie.

A lot sold three years ago to H. S. Harper in Ansley Park, when the lot was in the rough, for $3,000. Harper has since sold half of this lot for $19,000.

North side property makes many such advances.

Fifty acres of land 6 years ago, near Oglethorpe Park, sold for $1,900. Today the same tract is worth $150,000.

In 6 years more what will land between Oglethorpe University and Capital City Country Club be worth?

In this section is where Atlanta's best citizens will make their country homes.

Mr. Rich Man, this is your look---

Mr. Saver, here is where you can play with your rich man.

To buy Oglethorpe Park is to back the biggest most successful city builder anywhere in the South.

Never-quit Ansley says that there will be more development in the next five years in this section than all the rest of Atlanta put together.

Peachtree Road is a marvel of beauty and culture paved to Oglethorpe Park.

The entrance to the Park from Peachtree will be through Oglethorpe University Drive and 200 feet wide. The main road from the opening will be 66 feet wide.

An 20-foot private right of way will be provided for the car line.

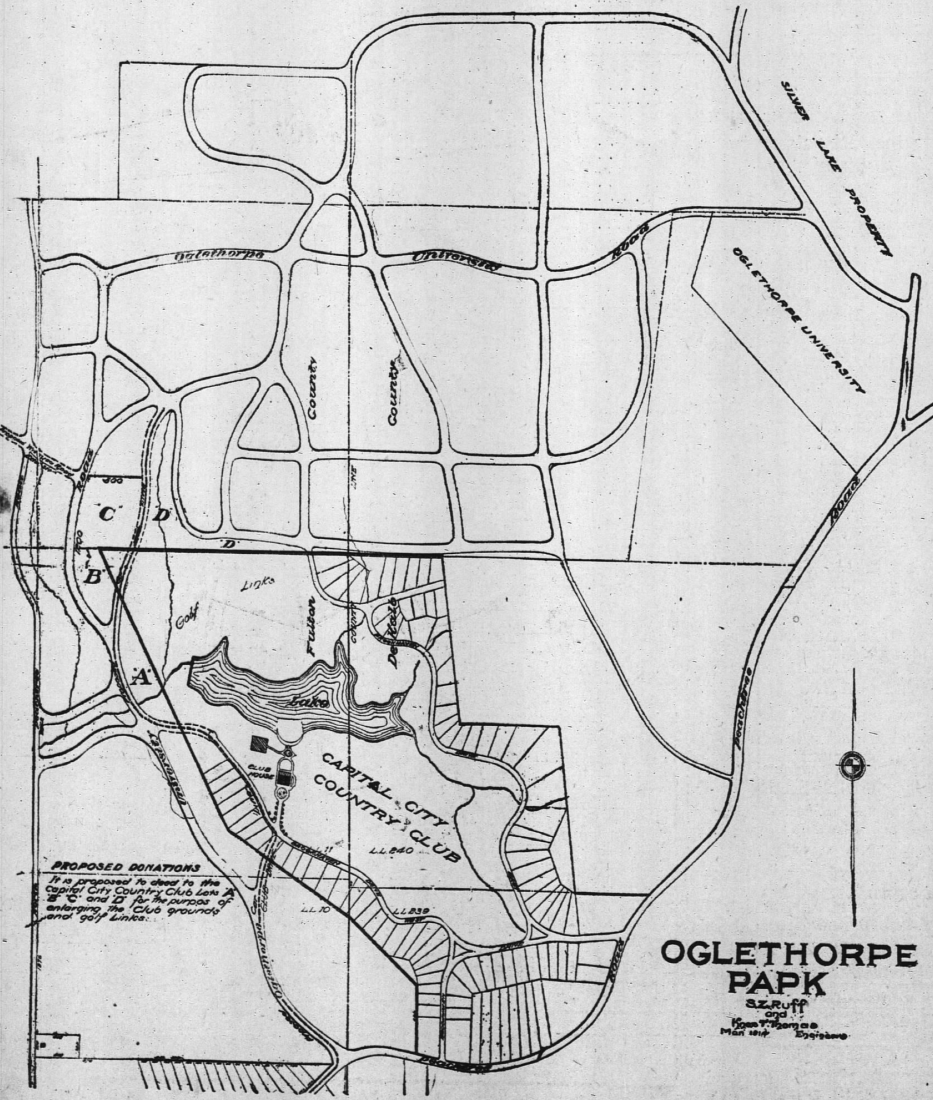

All roads will be brought to proper grades.

On the top of a high rolling slope, a tract of land has been offered the Capital City Club for the permanent club site, which tract will be of great value to the Club in years to come.

Who does not believe in the Regional Bank City---Atlanta?

If we had a good town before, we now have the greatest strength possible to be added to us.

Prince Mestchersky, Who Exerted Enormous Influence Under Alexander III., But Who Quarrelled With the Present Czar, Is Restored to Power—Overthrew Late Premier and Put Present Prime Minister in Power.

Rose Without Influence.

Mestchersky's career is a good illustration of Chancellor Gortschakoff's saying that only autocracies allow men without influence to rise to greatness. Gortschakoff was mainly thinking of Turkish history. Mestchersky is just such a little man. The Mestcherskys are an old family—their Finno-Tartar ancestors were sovereign rulers of the principality of Mestchera—but nowadays they are neither rich nor influential. Scores of Princes Mestchersky small officials, and one, Prince Ilya, who was a member of the nobility, had almost never had money or patronage; and he owes his present position to Alexander III.

Metchersky's birth in 1845. Before he was 39 he became the brains of the cabinet under Alexander, later Czar Alexander III. He called himself "The Great Reformer," and he was known as the "father" of their byrname to oppose the then popular emancipation movement. In the same year he published a book showing his talents by producing a dozen novels, which boldly and coarsely painted St. Petersburg life. The first novel, "Metchersky" was a much-read novellet, and it was followed by several others. His best-known books are "Women of St. Petersburg," "One of Our Blinnaks," "The People of the Capital," "The Young Men of the Great World." None of them has been translated into English, and they have done little harm to the talent and his shameless way of writing offended many. But Metchersky was not a man who could satisfy seriously as a politician and minister-maker, and by confidence and seal so riveted his yoke on the shoulders of Alexander III, that with the exception of the Emperor, no other person in the donostoff had no equal in power.

country's feelings. The grand banquet with the exception of Nikolai Alexandrovich, who was not invited, Alexandra will not receive him. "I suspect that it was he who was the author of the letter to me," said Alexei from the throne and the emperor's brother-in-law, Prince Michail, son of Grand Duke Paul, first cousin of the czar.

At the banquet, one of the guests, a German, one of the prominent Slavophiles, but Metemsky's ally at the "Brotherhood" notion, said that he was not surprised to find Germany and for the suppression of European peace. Metemsky hated the Balkans. He said that his country would be glad to see the Slavophiles expelled from the Slavophiles demanded that Metemsky be stopped in his march toward the Balkans.

From Adrianople, Metemsky announced that he had been informed by the reasoning that an Russo-German alliance, such as the Russo-German alliance, would strengthen the Russian reaction against the Slavophiles and tends to weaken. The month of March further enraged the Slavophiles.

His Greatest Triumph.
Kokovtsov's greatest triumph is his downing of the Kuskovskiy faction of Goremeykin, his friend. He attacked Kokovtsov's vodka monopoly and the Kuskovskiy's railroad loans. Witte next would be the assault in the council of ministers. As a result, the policy of taxing the peasant with liquor to enrich the state dates from today—Kokovtsov took over the vodka monopoly with all its revenues made. Kuskovskiy's endorsement that he attacked Kokovtsov because Kokovtsov was too scrupulous pure financial administration and cut off the state subsidies

Many Believe That His Great Tragedy Will Do No More Than Temporarily Eclipse the Brilliant Career of One of France's Strong Men, and That the General Elections on April 25 Will Bring Him Forward Again.

(Copyright, 1914, by Curtis Brown.)
Paris, April 11.—The coming French election will be held on April 23, will undoubtedly demonstrate just how the general public regards the crime of Mme. Joseph Calmette, and will probably give some aid toward deciding the political future of her husband. It is unlikely that the amazing murder of Gaston Calmette, the daily editor of the Journal, will wreck the political fortunes of the famous ex-premier. Undoubtedly until the affair has blown over, probably six months or more has laid out in a measure, he will be under a cloud, but none of those who know the strength and genius of Jo-

In 1888 he secured first place in open competition for higher education in the law at the Department and was appointed "inspector des finances" two years later. He has since then devoted his spare time to lecturing on political economy at the National School of Law of Paris.

All this was excellent preparation for a political career, and he was elected deputy for the Seine-et-Oise town, in 1898. He has represented this constituency ever since. He has never changed his political opinions, which are of the extreme left, only to become more radical from "progressive liberalism" to "radicalism." The radicals are now the extreme left in the French Chamber of Deputies, and he is quite natural in a republican cabinet, and Joseph Caillaux is their admitted

A Born Fighter.—The public life of the former "minister of the interior" is so colorful and so full of incidents which is apparent in his round face, that it is difficult to find another and yet more charming portrait of him. The warmth of friendship to bring to the fore the character of a country gentleman, his holidays in his native village, his visits to his ancestral mansion built by his grandfather, and his sense of duty and honor seem to be personified in him. He is a good shot, plays a very good game of billiards, and is full of life. He always puts a very good horse to the test, and is a good horse rider, but it is always first prize in his public capacity he never loses. He is a man of a strong opinion which was developed in his working day which broke up into intervals of hunting and fishing. He has no definite object in calling country life, but he has a few days in advance of his departure for his country, for 1911 or 1912, and was speaking of his plans for 1913. He is a man of a strong opinion, said Caillaux, and was known for his strong opinion. Clouds of Black Smoke.

The center of the island to the southwest, being a quarter of a mile wide, emitted enormous clouds of black smoke at intervals of 10 to 15 minutes. At night there was a red glow and on the eastern side a small crater which did not emit smoke. The water around the island was so dark that it was almost impossible. The water above was black.

Professor Frank A. Perret, the American volcanologist who recently arrived in Japan, received an urgent telegram from Tokyo on the 20th of May, telling him that a volcano on Mt. Unzen, near Nagasaki, had begun to erupt. He immediately packed his baggage and started on his way. He found that the eruption had been going on for some time, and that the lava was running in great quantities down the mountain. He was very interested in the eruption, and he stayed in Nagasaki for some time, observing the lava flow. He then went to the volcano, and he saw the lava flow. He was very impressed by the power of the eruption, and he wrote a book about it. He called it "The Sakurajima." Professor Perret found "no cause for alarm," but it was a very interesting eruption. He also found that the eruption was a very good example of the revival of volcanic activity in northern Japan. reforms which are dear to the hearts of the people, and pressing the burden of taxation, and the burden of the public funds in other directions. My first reform is to get rid of the dualistic system which the accounts of every public body are run on, and which is a waste. When our fiscal policy is based on the principle of substitution of a progressive income tax for the present system, the finances of this country on the whole will be improved.

For Three Years in Army.—I have been in the army for three years, and I have seen the service of my country. I am in favor of the present system of the defense of my country, but I should like to see it improved. I am in favor of a two years' system, as an addition to the present system. In the industrial and agricultural countries, the army is overworked, and although I cannot make private appeals to follow my own course, I am in favor of instituting the Saturday half-holiday for the army.

With reference to religion I allow me to say that I am in favor of the statement made by the Government, that I am a "devoted enemy." Nothing is further from my mind than to undermine the character of the Government. I am an adversary of the interference of the Government in religion, and I am what we call "devotional" in the sense that I am in favor of the religion of the people, and I am not at all hard on you to say that you are a "devoted enemy" of the Government. It is a political power.

"I suppose I am very young," she said. "I am not," I said. "Now, aren't you miserable?"

It was really quite amusing to note that she was a descendant of Mark Burke, of New York, who was a famous dancer. She was a descendant of him. Somebody asked me, "What do you think of this?" She answered by keeping her head down and saying, "I like people here, you know," she said. "I like the dancing, the dancing and dancing. If you dance with me, I'll be a dancer." I told her that Miss Cansard is likely to be a descendant of Mark Burke, and she said that she and her mother were a family of dancers. Merchants Behind Movement to Land Attendance Prize

Mayor Declares Half Holiday Tuesday—Ad Men to Have Big Parade—Chamber Sends Out Postals.

By Dick Jemison.

"What it takes to win the opening day attendance trophy Atlanta has got."

That's a pretty long slogan, but it is a good one to remember. That is strictly up to every one to climb aboard the old band wagon and stay aboard until 6 o'clock Tuesday afternoon.

Concerted effort on the part of the officials of the baseball club, city officials, merchants, chamber of commerce, ad men, other civic organizations and last, but not least, the press, is needed to make that slogan stick.

Atlanta's superiority, being as usual on all sides. To be exact, from seven different directions. There are seven other cities in the south that challenge Atlanta's right to title.

The best baseball town in the south.

Average Arouse.

When such a condition arises there can only be one answer. "Atlanta Always Ahead" is one of the best slogans the city has ever boasted of and this slogan is going to be flaunted in the faces of the above mentioned towns that doubt.

We admire the pluck of the other cities in endeavoring to show Atlanta up. We admire them just about the same way as we admire a small boy for sticking his hand into a fire to see whether it would burn or not.

The city got a splendid quality of stick-to-it-iveness. We admire them for that. But what is it then? Where, where, why keep bucking a stone?

Don't take all this self-flattery for too much value. There is plenty of work to be done and done not only quickly, but thoroughly. If Atlanta is going to pull across that attendance prize for the opening day again this season, everyone must be together and work hard.

Saturday Handicap.

There is a condition that must be met this season that has arisen in 1913. The teams that open the season away from home this year will on their own opening day be favored with a Saturday opening.

These four cities are Mobile, New Orleans, Memphis and Nashville. These four that attend on Tuesday can surpass their attendance on Saturday.

Can she do it? Certainly she can! But every one must put their shoulder to the wheel pushing and pulling and with all their might.

The cities that open on the same day as Atlanta are Chattanooga, Birmingham and Montgomery. These three Birmingham is the city that the Crackers must defeat.

The barons are stinging over the defeat handed them by the Gate City of the South last season and they have started the gauntlet right in the face of the Atlanta Baseball association. The left was so wholehearted that the local association could not afford to overlook it.

The result of telling a few friends of Birmingham's challenge has been evidenced by the work that has been done during the past few days and the interest that is being manifested on all sides.

Chamber of Commerce.

The first organization to take cognizance of it was the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce. The committee on local organization behind the move to land the trophy has been organized.

The 1200 members of the chamber of commerce received the following postal card from the president and industrial secretary of the chamber:

"Keep Atlanta Always Ahead—Last year we won the attendance prize in ball pennant and the record for attendance was set by the Crackers. This season will be played Tuesday, April 14, 1914. You are urged to bring your business and let their employees attend the game.

"We are making every effort to have a record-breaking attendance and show our hearty support of the Atlanta team. Arrange your business to clear up at 11 o'clock, Monday, April 13, and be in line at 12 o'clock, Tuesday, April 14, 1914. Signed, Hall R. Wilkinson, President. Atlanta Chamber of Commerce."

The merchants of the city are fast responding to this and other appeals and every hour brings reports of the local baseball association that this or that store is going to close up for the afternoon Tuesday.

Mayor's Holiday.

Mayor James G. Woodward was the first to get into the spirit of the thing. He is going to declare Tuesday a half holiday. The mayor states that he is going to issue a proclamation ordering a half holiday Tuesday. All that remains to be done is for the formal issuance of same. Every one considers it as good as done and the issuance is a formality.

"Uncle Jim" will be on hand at the game as usual and will tell the first ball in his accustomed breezy manner.

The city hall force, every one of them, will be in the wood frame building in the morning and the boys will be in the city hall building in the afternoon. Next to get in line was the Ad Men's club. These hustlers, who never know when they are licked. This organization is planning a monster parade on the afternoon of the game.

Their line-up for Thursday afternoon at the Ansley following committee was appointed to arrange for their parade for the day: Fred W. Brehm, chairman, J. C. Starnes, George H. Fausch, Coke Davis and J. C. Starnes.

This committee is interviewing all the other teams. They are asking every one to get in line for the afternoon parade. For their efforts thus far have been such that the business house that closes up on Tuesday afternoon will be in the minority.

From Other Training Camps Come Stories of Both Joy and Sorrow

Everything is in readiness for the grand opening of the Southern league's fourteenth annual season next Tuesday afternoon.

From the different training camps come reports of gladness in some instances sorrow in others, hopefulness in still others and chagrin in still others.

Some of the reports written by The Constitution's correspondents in the other cities pick their teams to win the pennant. Others do not believe that their club could win in a Class D league.

But we will not go into the merits of any of the teams. We let the fellows right on the ground tell the readers of The Constitution's sporting page what they think of their prospects.

The prospect of Mobile, Birmingham, New Orleans, Chattanooga, Memphis and Montgomery are given herewith.

Southern League Starts Its 14th Season Tuesday

Prospects Point to a Good Season—Longer Schedule. Many Changes Made in Personnel of Teams.

By Dick Jemison.

The fourteen annual season of the Southern Association of Professional Baseball Clubs, known more generally as the Southern league, will begin Tuesday, April 14, with better prospects, better play and a more interesting race than ever before in the history of the game in this section.

The opening games are scheduled as follows:

Nashville in Atlanta, Monday at Chattanooga, Monday in Birmingham.

Of the 14 teams, only one, the Mobiles, is new to the league.

The series of games listed above will be four-game series and then the home teams will play each other. Only the visiting teams in the first series being the home teams in the second.

As there is a large fight on between all the clubs for the opening attendance prize, by Sunday the winner will be announced.

The visiting teams Tuesday have all the advantages in the opening day attendance prize. They will be at home on a Saturday. Thus it will be seen that the teams opening Tuesday will have to hustle more than ever to bring in the prize.

Former Winners.

The pennant winners in the past seasons are as follows:

1901—Nashville.
1902—Nashville.
1903—Memphis.
1904—Nashville.
1905—New Orleans.
1906—Birmingham.
1907—Atlanta.
1908—Nashville.
1909—New Orleans.
1910—New Orleans.
1911—Birmingham.
1912—Birmingham.
1913—Birmingham.

It will be seen from this list that Atlanta, New Orleans and Nashville have won the pennant three times. Bill Smith is the only player who has won the pennant with three of them. He was with the Crackers in 1903, 1904 and 1905. He was with the Mobiles in 1906, 1907 and 1908. He was with the Crackers in 1909, 1910 and 1911. He was with the Crackers in 1912 and 1913.

There have been several changes in the managerial roster of the teams during the coming campaign. Only the Atlanta Crackers and the Mobiles will retain their managers. The other teams will have new managers.

Bill Smith at Atlanta, Bill Schwartz at Nashville and Charlie Mottsworth at Birmingham are the three old managers to retain their jobs.

Johnny Dobbs, who managed Montgomery last season, is going to New Orleans, succeeding Charlie Frank, the veteran of the league. Only one representative of the Cleveland club and holds the position of second vice president of the Southern league.

Bobby Gills, former Shreveport manager, is going to Chattanooga, succeeding Charlie Frank, the veteran of the league. Only one representative of the Cleveland club and holds the position of second vice president of the Southern league.

Harry Moses, who managed the Mobiles last season, is going to Nashville, succeeding Charlie Frank, the veteran of the league. Only one representative of the Cleveland club and holds the position of second vice president of the Southern league.

Longer Schedule.

The Southern league has adopted a longer season than in the past. The season will be 140 games long, instead of 130 games as in the past.

There will be several records that the players of the league can aspire to.

First, there is the run getting record. The Atlanta Crackers have won the run getting record in the past. They have won it in 1903, 1904, 1905, 1906, 1907, 1908, 1909, 1910, 1911, 1912 and 1913.

Remarks About Oglethorpe Park and Mr. Ansley By Some of Our Citizens and Publications:

"Nature has done everything possible in contributing to the beauty of this section. The transformation of that whole section into an aggregation of beautiful country estates is assured."—CLARK HOWELL.

"I unhesitatingly say this property offers the surest and quickest profits to the speculator that I have ever seen. It only needs to be seen to be appreciated."—W. A. VERNON.

"I have investigated your proposition. A splendid opportunity to investors who are seeking locations for country estates ideally located."—W. M. HUTCHINSON.

"The projected development of this plateau, with its beautiful forests, and the system of drives, will enhance every foot of property in this section."—DR. WILLIAM OWENS.

"I believe the Club and University will certainly co-operate with you to the fullest extent in carrying out the development plans."—T. JULIAN M'GILL.

"I should think the merits of this proposition would fully warrant the County Commissioners of Fulton and DeKalb Counties in co-operating fully with you."—R. F. MADDOX.

"I am further willing to co-operate with you in grading the driveway marked 'Club Drive' its entire length and deeding to the Club lots or tracts marked on the Oglethorpe Park plat as lots A and D."—S. C. STOVALL.

"The wonderful pine forests rival those of Lakewood and the altitude gives the air a rarity which I think equals that of Asheville."—KEATS SPEED.

"Twentieth century activities, and the natural inclination of normal man to possess his own principality, are influences carrying to the summits of Atlanta's outlying property substantial, permanent homes and making of Fulton County the land of 'heart's desire.'"—ISMA DQOLY.

An Editorial from The Atlanta Constitution:

"Mr. Ansley is a man who does not go off half-cocked. He has only to point to what he has done in the phenomenal Ansley Park and Forsyth street projects to submit convincing testimony of his qualifications as a practical prophet. In every enterprise he has attempted he has proven to be an advance agent of expansion and of progress. His name is synonymous with success."

A Clipping from Atlanta Georgian About Oglethorpe University

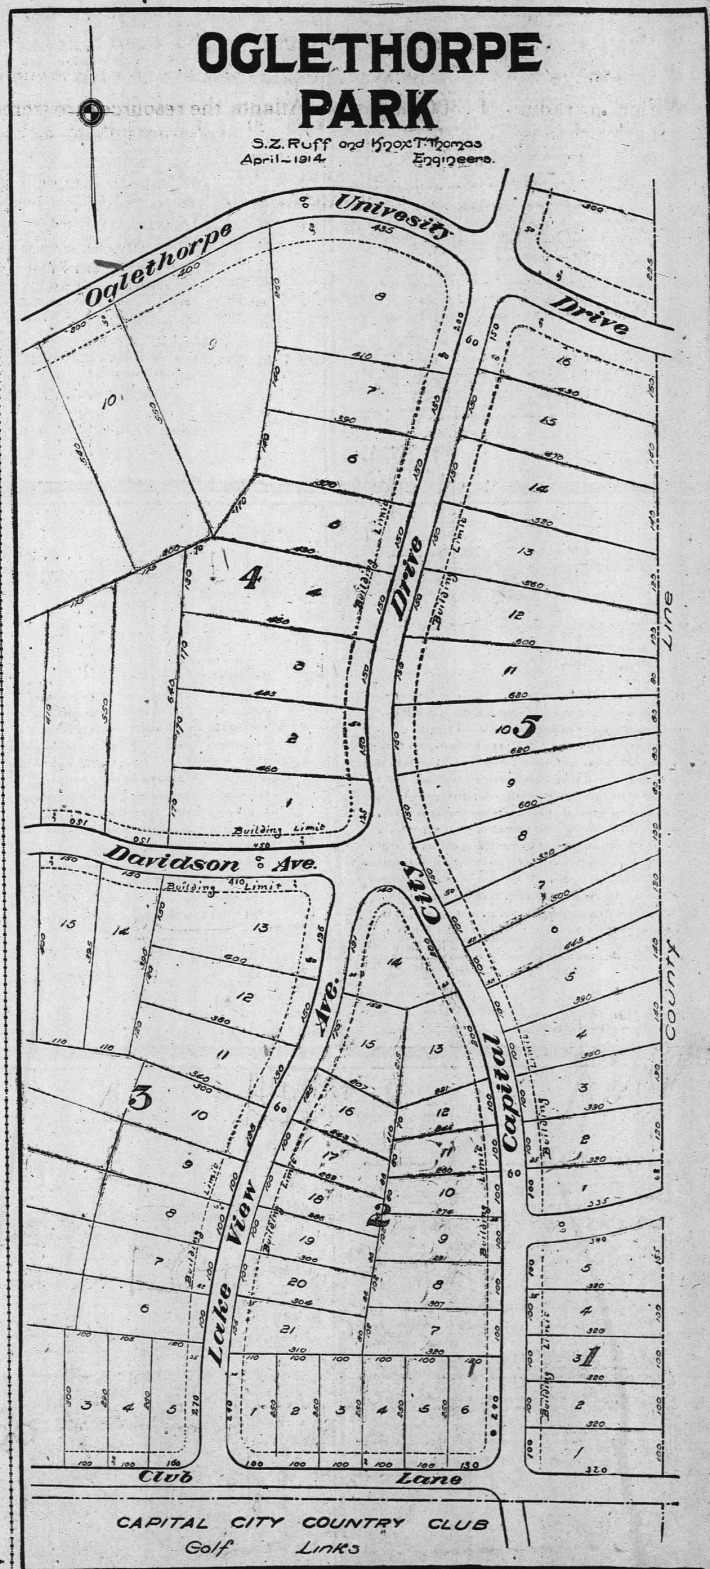

"An expert survey has been made of the grounds with a view of breaking dirt for the proposed building. The topographical survey is now under progress and will soon be submitted to the landscape artists who are to construct the most beautiful grounds possessed by any southern educational institution.

"The University now possesses a half-million in cash and real estate. Contributions are still coming in at an average of $10,000 monthly."

Editorial from Atlanta Georgian:

"Edwin P. Ansley has begun another great real estate development, near Atlanta. This time he has chosen a plat of ground adjoining the golf course of the Capital City Club and is devoting all his wonderful energy to it. Mr. Ansley is the kind of a man who should be encouraged. The brains and capital of the Ansley type are constantly working in Atlanta and for Atlanta. They have made Atlanta."

Young man or young woman, you should start the safest, surest way known to humanity to lay by for your old age. In the Social Whirl

By Sam Dooly

IN connection with the beautiful portrait of Mrs. Richard Johnston there are several incidents of unique interest. The artist of the portrait is Madame Vallée-Bisson, who last month was decorated by the government of France with the Red Cross of the Legion of Honor, this honor to her group of portraits by her which critics declare to be masterpieces in the records of French art. She is the third eminent woman decorated by the French government this year, the other two being that great exponent of dramatic art, Sara Bernhardt, and Madame Adolph Brissot, distinguished as one of the most powerful of French journalists.

Like Madame Brissot, Madame Vallée-Bisson is co-head of one of the most famous of French studios, her husband an artist of international note, and a chevalier of the Legion of Honor. While Mr. Vallée-Bisson paints almost exclusively in oils, Madame Brissot is famed as a pastellist, as well as an artist in oils. She is as well known among the art lovers of Britain as among those of the United States, her visit here several years ago bringing to her several subjects which have added to the fame of her studio.

Though she will not acknowledge it herself, Mrs. Johnston was invited by the French artist to sit for the portrait, and another one of Mrs. Johnston similar to the one which hangs in her drawing room here hangs in the studio of the famous French artist and was one of those which brought to the latter the decoration of the Legion of Honor.

ATTRACTED BY HER TYPE OF BEAUTY.

Madame Vallée-Bisson was in New York several years ago, and there saw Mrs. Johnston. She was struck by her patrician type of beauty; the classic outline of her features and a certain individuality, which the French artist declared was one rare in any country.

She invited Mrs. Johnston to sit with her, and the result was not only two beautiful portraits, the one photographed and published today, and another one which hangs in her drawing room here, but she was a Miss Isabel Thomas, of Athens, and resided in Macon until two years ago, when her mother, Mrs. W. W. Thomas, became an admitted and popular hostess in Atlanta's social world.

Mrs. Johnston will have with her during opera week her mother-in-law, Mrs. J. Marshall Johnston, of Macon, and she will be among Atlanta's charming hostesses, entertaining friends from a distance during opera week.

RECOGNITION OF TALENTED WOMEN.

France has taken the lead in recognizing the feminist movement, and by willingly recognizing the merit of women wherever it manifests itself in the last quarter of a century, one hundred women have been decorated by the government for their achievements.

ments, and several have been made members of the Académie. It was suggested by one to whom I made this comment that, though France had been more ready than any other country to recognize the ability of woman whenever expressed to a marked degree, French women were never militant in expressing themselves or demanding their rights; that they preserved the traditional ideal of waiting to be discovered. Even those who have borne triumphantly in trailing robes and crowned heads into the very sanctum of sanctums of French intellect, French science, French art and French literature have been sought that the honors might be conferred upon them. They have held to feminine reserve even in achieving in lines where masculine strength of thought had almost exclusively prevailed, and have preferred to make their conquests through the circle in the salon, or through the library or studio, rather than from the platform or rostrum.

They have, with but few exceptions, always preserved what may be termed the very essence of femininity, even at the majestic little figure of Joan d'Arc in soldiers' armor, which history hands down sculptured in marble and bronze, bearing with it so eloquently the spirit of the woman heroically manifest.

WHEN SHE LOVES

And another impression even the superficial reader must get of the French woman is that when she has been too easily won—when she has loved not wisely, but too well—it has been even given in man that has won her, not always the atmosphere of courts and courtesies which dazzled the duBarry.

A ready example of this was Victor Hugo's adoring Juliet Drouot, who wrote him a billet doux every day for nearly thirty years, and received the same from him. Her home has been too easily won—when she has loved not wisely, but too well—it has been even given in man that has won her, not always the atmosphere of courts and courtesies which dazzled the duBarry.

It is the woman in France who now then seems to raise her hand against some institution which does her or the child a wrong, something which strikes home. She is thus portrayed by Briere in her drama "Le Robe Rouge," when she raises her hand against the quality of justice to the poor. Her personal rights in her relation to that man had been infringed upon, she thought—and you have them for the French drama for years to come.

Indeed, the more one thinks of this French woman, in her century after century of wit and wisdom, and sometimes wisdom, she presents almost the descriptive of the little girl in the little story who, "when she is good she is very good, indeed, and when bad she is horrid."

When they are good and clever in France, they decorate them, but on pedestals, and proclaim them great. And France reaches out in this desire to recognize feminine merit.

A CHARMING WOMAN DECORATED BY FRANCE.

A charming woman from Worcester, Mass., visited Atlanta this past winter, who had been decorated by the French government—the department of education. She was Mrs. Homer Gage, the guest of Mrs. Otley, at Joyeuse. This decoration came to her through her efficient work in the American branch of the Alliance Française, of the visit that Madame Gage's Gage spoke fluently the French language, and has studied carefully the literature, philosophy and art of France.

She expressed so much in her presence, French spirit, so much of it in her conversation, that one realized how well French piquancy can impart itself to the who respond to its teachings.

This piquancy proceeds so directly from the French mind which leads to art and beauty and separates them from the everlasting commonness of things.

Atlanta's Alliance Française is under the leadership of a native French woman, Mme. Silfer, while Mrs. John Marshall Slaton is honorary chairman. Mrs. Slaton and Governor Slaton have been students of French literature since their marriage. The governor reads it fluently and Mrs. Slaton both reads and speaks it fluently. She was one of the number of eighty or a hundred Atlantans who entertained M. Andre Belloret when he was here last Monday and lectured in French on the truth about the French home in its relation to French life.

Though one hears a great deal ever and anon about the popularity of French as the great world language and how even the English language would come to be "more spoke" than any other, it is a belle langue which still holds as the language of people speak at court when the language of that court is not generally known.

It is the French artists speak when they meet in the cosmopolitan center and the man or woman of the day who makes no pretensions to travel or to enter into the atmosphere of world spirit wherever they find themselves. They are at least the compliment of the day in French.

GEORGIA WOMAN WHO DIED IN PARIS.
A beautiful Georgia woman who died

Photographed from the painting by Vallée-Bisson.

In Paris a little over a year ago, and when, if she had lived, would have, in fact, been recognized there for her intellect and literary talents, was Laura Meado Gage, sister of the secretary of the treasury. Beautiful and brilliant in her youth, and a student of French literature, she first wrote short stories for the American magazines, then finished literary critic. Her first husband was a professor in the Chicago university. She was a part of the intellectual life there until her residence in Paris and her marriage to Dr. Gage, a French scientist of marked talent. She was studying with him, and attending a course of lectures in the academy, when one of the speakers touched upon certain social phases of the southern states of the United States.

He misrepresented facts in statements made pertaining to the negro race problem when the young American woman arose and the most fluent French corrected the speaker, and instructed her learned listeners in the question about which she knew so much and they knew so little.

She was at once sought for by the intellectual element of that great city. She became a regular speaker at their conferences, and a contributor to French magazines, one of her last articles being a very brilliant one pertaining to the feminist movement as she saw it in France. Madame Gage, in her thought and attitude, her clear and directness of utterance, her very much the spirit of her distinguished brother, now one of the most marked men in the world of affairs. With her knowledge and seriousness of viewpoint, her sense of personal conviction in her activities, she had that social gift and that love of life in its pleasures that made her home a most delightful one.

Miss Emily Harrison, of Atlanta, visited Madame Gage but a few moments previous to the latter's death and described one of the most interesting incidents of the visit that Madame Gage's little boy knew all the Uncle Remus stories and could repeat them in French.

AMERICA HAS WOMEN AS DESERVING.

These decorations which go to women in foreign countries for their abilities and their contributions to life, artistic or literary, are not well fall upon many women of our own nation, our own state, our own city, for as far as I can think I can enumerate great women. Though she is a native of England, Jane Addams might well be decorated by the United States government for her knowledge and grasp of our industrial and social conditions, and the work which she has done in working out certain problems.

No woman in Georgia is more deserving of a decoration than her state for literary achievement, than Cora Harris, who, at this time, contributes to a wider scope of literary publications than any man or woman writer of the moment. Her books, published by Doubleday, Page & Co. are among the most widely read this country and England. In the last six months she has had articles and short stories in The Saturday Evening Post, in Harper's Magazine (monthly), in Harper's Weekly, in Good Housekeeping, while a series of articles published in The Independent, during the five weeks, have attracted the attention of the most thoughtful of the critics.

The New York Sun has a three-column review recently to this last achievement of hers. She has completed the matter for another book, which will be published serially in the early fall, and is at present writing the second story of the year, returning to her home in "The Valley" to put on the finishing touches. Mrs. Harris, in three years' time has had four books published—an unusual achievement, especially in the fact that the books may be said to have struck a new note in literature—but another time can Mrs. Harris' eligibility to a "decoration" be discussed.

AN ATLANTA WOMAN WORTHY OF DECORATION.

Atlanta's lady, worthy of a decoration is Anne Wallace Howland (Mrs. Max Ryland Howland, of Boston), who is in Atlanta on a visit now. As a school girl she became librarian of the Young Men's library, Atlanta's first literary institution, and she never ceased in her determination to give Atlanta a worthy library until she saw built, established, equipped and marked as a great one, Atlanta's Carnegie library.

Atlanta's civic life has no greater asset that the Carnegie library. How it has made men and women would make a brilliant illuminating story, and the most telling and inspiring chapter in it would be the part taken by this one individual woman.

She was who brought the meeting of the American Library association to Georgia when organized library work was almost unknown in this section. She inspired the idea of a library commission in Georgia; she was one of the organizers of the Georgia Library association. She formulated the plan and secured the appropriation from the state and the appropriation from the city which made possible the establishment of the Carnegie library school of Atlanta, the first library school in the south, and the light of her constructive spirit has shined with the work here ever after she several years ago married Mr. Howland, of Boston. When she comes home she will find the library when she was founded, the assembly was one of the most distinguished in personell Atlanta could produce.

Her entertainments have been given her, and her presence brings joy always. Among her hostesses this week have been Mrs. Robert L. Foreman, Mrs. Percival Good, Mrs. Preston Ariswright, Mrs. George Howard, Mrs. Harrison Bleckley.

WINNER OF THE NOBEL PRIZE.

Can anyone pronounce the name of the genius who has won the Nobel prize? Atlanta has entertained two of the winners, the Baroness Von Suttner, and the Norwegian, Alfred Nobel, who died in 1896, and now comes the last member of the distinguished group, whose name was Rabindranath Tagore, the first person of any race other than Caucasian to receive a Nobel prize. As I heard Mrs. Suttner tell Mrs. Albert Howland at luncheon the other day.

W. R. Yates, in speaking of this new man on the horizon of fame, says of his poetry, "It has an innocence, a simplicity, that does not die, and it is where in literature, and that 'when he is speaking of children, one is not reminded of the adult world, but of the most beautiful of Tagore's works is that entitled 'The Crescent Moon.' Extracts from that poem are:

THE HOME.
I gazed alone on the road across the field while the dew was on the grass, its last gold like a mist. The night was dark and deep, and deeper into the darkness, and the star, who addressed the club, was being, my silent.

MRS. R. W. JOHNSTON

ROME, GA.

The issuance of cards for the marriage next Wednesday of Miss Annie Booth Howell and Dr. R. O. Simmons was the occasion of a number of pretty prenuptial courtesies the past week. Mrs. Harry Patton entertained a dozen at luncheon Thursday in honor of the bride-elect. Mrs. W. A. Blair was hostess to her sewing club on Friday afternoon to honor the bride-elect. Friday evening Dr. and Mrs. George W. Simons entertained a party of six at 6 o'clock with the betrothed. Mrs. Corneilus, of Athens, was the hostess on Tuesday next and of that pretty tea party Miss Howell will be a notable honoree. Following the marriage, in which so many are interested, a number of delightful affairs will be tendered the popular couple.

Monday, again Alumnus day at Graham's tea room. Mrs. A. W. Putrell entertained her eight guests pleasantly at afternoon tea.

The piano recital at Shorter college given by Miss Edith Hall, pianist, a gifted member of the faculty, attracted a number to Shorter Monday evening.

Preparatory to the true appreciation and enjoyment of the grand opera season in Atlanta, the opera lovers had for the afternoon's entertainment a program of the opera, the opera being sung in May. Misses Alda Printup and Anna Hamilton were the reciters of "Pagliacci" and "Bohème" and "Lohengrin" and "Hänsel and Gretel."

Dr. and Mrs. Robert Harbin will leave for a tour abroad, spending the greater part of the summer in Europe. Dr. Harbin will pursue a post-graduate course.

The pastor of the Baptist church at Ballwin, the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles R. Farnsworth, will be the guest of the benefit of the Berry circle was a social affair at the home of Mrs. Farnsworth.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Dameron entertained a party of friends at their home on Wednesday evening.

Mr. E. S. Dameron, furthering the "entertain eight" plan, projected by the Dameron family, will be the guest of the Berry circle, and a number of the guests will be present on Thursday afternoon.

Forget him not, another alumnus had a pleasant party of friends spent at the home of Mrs. Farnsworth, the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles R. Farnsworth, will be the guest of the benefit of the Berry circle was a social affair at the home of Mrs. Farnsworth.

Miss Shell was a Roman gladly welcomed her return.

More such corners and buns. No more picking and gouging at those poor, sore toes irritated and tortured with caustic cures that do not bring out the core.

The first touch of TANGO cures your suffering. Applied in an instant and it's done. No fuss; nothing to curl up or stick to the stocking; nothing to make the skin with the worth of PEARL, which rots out the CORN of the foot, and leaves a clean, as clean as a whistle, without pain and without making the toe.

TANGO is the best remedy in the world for corns and bunions, blisters and callous spots; the only remedy advertised with a money-back guarantee. Any druggist who sells TANGO will give you a money-back guarantee. Do not root out the CORN of the foot, and leave a clean, as clean as a whistle, without pain and without making the toe.

GEORGIA NINE IN GOOD SHAPE

Coach Joe Bean Pleased
With Showing Made in Recent Games—Club Goes
North on April 24.

By Clark Howell, Jr.
After playing nine games this season the work of the Red and Black nine appears gratifying both to Coach Bean and to the adherents of the team. Of the nine games played the Georgians have won seven and lost two, one to Michigan and one to the Clemson Tigers. The tenth game of the season will be played Monday afternoon with the Illinois team and should afford a good comparison among several S. L. A. A. teams, since Illinois has played both Alabama and Tech. The team is improving along all lines, especially in fielding, while the same work of the line-up with the willow has been apparent in every game played this year.

Pitching Strong.
The pitching staff has rounded into great shape and the locals now have a trio of formidable writers in suits of the fact that a great deal of bloom encircled this department earlier in the season. Olin Corley, veteran of last year's team, has lost but one game out of four starts; Hitchcock has dropped but one out of three and Fox has gotten away to two starts and finished without a defeat chalked up against him.

Every berth on the field seems to be securely nailed down with the exception of right field, where Owens and Brown are worked alternately. Which ever one of these is horned out of his position, he will in all probability be taken along with the team on all trips as utility man, so the personnel of the team is virtually complete.

Several series of games will be played on Sanford field before the team will start its northern trip on the 24th of April. On this trip games will be played with the Navy, North Carolina, A. & M. the University of North Carolina and Washington and Lee.

Battling.
The following is the batting average and the number of runs made by each man on the team through the games played with the University of Michigan.

A Quality "Six" at a Quantity Price—$1800

No longer need those who want six-cylinder luxury hold back on account of the price.

Here's a copy of the Master "Six" (our $2175 car) built on a lighter scale; with the same motor but a smaller and lighter model; yet it develops up to 50 horsepower and has more speed than you'll ever need.

Light enough for economy in tires and fuel; yet heavy enough for safety and comfort. Graceful in outline, distinguished in appearance; and sold at a price which makes the "Six" more economical than any comparable "four."

A Lighter Master "Six"

This 1915 Chalmers "Light Six" at $1800 has all the features which make the larger Master "Six" at $2175 illustrious.

Its small bore and long stroke motor gives it the same flexible power—without a snail's pace to express train speed without shifting gears.

The steady pull of its six cylinders gives a quality of motion that is nerve soothing, not irritating. It means a smoothness that reduces wear and tear on car and passengers to the vanishing point. Its light weight means an added economy in fuel and tires; while its price has made it easy for the many to own "Sixes."

Built Up to a Standard— Not Down to a Price

The 1915 Master "Light Six" is built throughout to meet a standard, not to fit a price.

We use the best steel in the newest Chalmers "Six" because we must hold up the strength while we hold down the weight. Valves of ordinary steel are cheaper, but our valves of Tungsten steel never warp nor waste power. Our model oval fenders cost more than flat ones, but they pay for themselves in added beauty and utility. Every dollar in the price stands for a dollar of real value in the car.

The Price is Lower— Not the Quality

The selling price of the 1915 "Light Six" is lower than the larger Master "Six" because this new model is slightly smaller. Horsepower is less because weight is less.

But it has the same Chalmers-Entz one-motion starter; the same non-stallable Master Motor. Its roomy body is the true streamline type with flush fitting doors and concealed hinges. Tires are carried at the rear, leaving running boards clear. Its tapering bonnet, underslung springs and oval fenders give it distinction in any company.

Let us give you the Chalmers Standard Road Test that proves every claim.

stores that will close on Tuesday is out of the question at this time, but it signifies his intention by advising the sporting editor, either in writing or by telephone the firm name will be printed in subsequent stories.

A partial list of those who have already signified their intention of closing for the afternoon is as follows:

The Georgia Railway and Power company, the Lowry National bank, M. Katz & Co., Nunnally & Co., W. A. Chasin & Co., Otley, Knowles & Miller, Parke-Chambers-Hardwick company, George Mues Clothing company, Daniel Bros., Southern railway passenger department, Cloud-Stanford company, Y. H. Kiehl & Co., C. P. Glover Realty company, Atlanta and West Point railway, the Associated Bulletin system, Massengale Advertising, B. M. Grant & Co., Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph company, A. G. Spaulding & Bros., and others.

Mr. Stanford of Cloud-Stanford company has addressed a communication to all the other stores in the same line of business in Atlanta asking them to close for the afternoon and he believes that every one of them will.

Spaulding's Placed.
A. G. Spaulding & Bros. have the following placed in their shop windows, which has been commented upon by

NOTICE: Store will be closed

Tuesday, April 14; opening game Southern league. Are the clerks going? They are. Is the manager going? He is.

Similar cards are rapidly appearing on other stores and some of the enterprising printers of the city are sending to the business houses of the city cards with the following inscription:

CLOSED: Gone to ball game. The enterprising printers have put their advertisements on these cards.

The ticket sale at the Tunnell Bros. store, which is the downtown ticket office, has been immense. Twice they have had to send back for a new supply of tickets, the ducks are going so fast.

To aid in the speedy handling of the crowd at Ponce de Leon the baseball association has erected a box office just across the street from the park. Tickets of all classes can be purchased at this box office, which will be even harder to the street cars than the regular box office.

In closing let's remember once and for all Atlanta must win that opening day attendance trophy. No half-hearted effort will do it.

No closer up your shop, go to the game yourself and let your employees go as well.

Today, April 14, is the big day in the baseball world of Atlanta and let's hope that September 17 will be an even bigger one and another pennant will fly from the bannant pole at Poncey.

ENDORSEMENTS OF CLEGGORPE PARK ADITSB

ATLANTA, GEORGIA, April 11th, 1914.

Oglethorpe Park is a "creature of accident." Its development was begun on "Friday the Thirteenth" (13th) of March, and the first installment of lots will be sold at auction to the "highest bidder" on the "Thirteenth" (13th) of April at 3 P. M. If there is any bad luck in "Thirteenth" ("13") I must suffer the consequences.

I abandoned the development outlined in Mr. H. E. Hettman's letter at Ft. Myers, Fla., because of the lack of co-operation of "one" property owner.

I abandoned a similar development at Sarasota, Florida, because of the lack of co-operation of "two" property owners.

It has been my experience in all my development enterprises that the parties who were most benefited gave me the least co-operation.

I was asked to develop the "Hart Estate" in Land Lot No. 12 Fulton County immediately North of the Capital City Country Club, and fronting 1,480 feet on the Peachtree and Dunwoody (North Peachtree or Balloun Road, which is now being widened and graded by the county) into acreage tracts, suitable for the public's demands.

In seeking to find the best plans for developing the Hart property I sent Mr. S. Z. Huff, the Engineer who helped me develop Ansley Park, and he laid out the system of "Driveways" shown on the "Driveway Plan," which together the two points of greatest interest in the public mind just at this time, viz: The Capital City Country Club and the site of Oglethorpe University.

Within the limited time between March "13th" and April "13th," we have not been able to grade the complete "Driveway System" planned and shown, but you can get your own agent to take you in his automobile and enter the "Temporary Road" at Sam Stovall's private entrance at the end of the Peachtree car line and follow that "Temporary Road" until you reach the lot immediately North of the Capital City Club Golf Links, planned to be sold at Auction Monday the Thirteenth (13th) at 3 P. M. You will be surprised at what you find.

I GUARANTEE to bring all the roads shown on the "Driveway System" to a proper grade, and I would never be able to look the splendid men, who gave me the endorsement herewith presented in the face, if I failed to carry out any plans that I present to the public. "They and nearly one hundred similar endorsements have been the sole inspiration for the strenuous I have been through in the past thirty days.

The opening of the "Baseball Season" on Tuesday, and engagements in New York and Florida, force me to offer the lots for sale at auction on Monday the 13th at 3 P. M. in the Rough; as I did the first lots on Peachtree street in Ansley Park, April 4th, 1904; but my "loss" is your "gain."

If I keep my promise to perfect the "Driveway System" Mr. Huff has outlined, even a few weeks will make a great difference in the value of the lots to be sold to the "highest bidder" Monday the "13th" at 3 P. M.

All I ask is that you go out and look at the property, either with your own agent in your own automobile, or allow us to take you over the property from the end of the Peachtree Car Line in an automobile.

Thanking the Citizens of Atlanta for their splendid support in all my development enterprises, and hoping to merit their continued support, I am, Yours for the Upbuilding of Atlanta,

EDWIN P. ANSLEY.

My Dear Mr. Ansley,

I have just examined with great interest your plans for developing a suburban residence section in the vicinity of Oglethorpe university site. This section you have wisely and appropriately named "Oglethorpe Park."

In my opinion it is one of the most important developments that have been projected around Atlanta in years. The natural beauty of the country, its hills and brooks and trees, its accessibility to the city from Peachtree road, and the numerous striking drives, which you have laid out, make it most attractive.

I am glad you have undertaken this development. It means that this park is to be directed by your splendid intelligence and energy to successful accomplishment.

I am especially pleased because of the proximity of this beautiful park to Oglethorpe university. It will add greatly to the attractions of the university grounds, and in this and other ways will be a great advantage to the institution.

We have practically half a million dollars with which to begin the erection of Oglethorpe university, and expect to have a great deal more in a short time, just as soon as certain preliminary details can be satisfactorily determined. We shall begin the work of erecting the establishment of Oglethorpe park will help us greatly in this connection. We are convinced that the university will be an added attraction to the park.

Your splendid enterprise appeals to me so strongly that I cannot refrain from expressing to you my warm commendation and approval.

I trust you will have the greatest success in carrying out the plans that you have undertaken.

Very truly yours,

Locals Pound Out Victory In Final Exhibition Game; Play Horribly in the Field

By Dick Sanders.

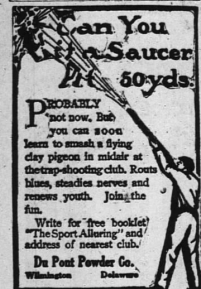

Playing like a bunch of amateurs for the first six innings and like world's champions for the last three, the Crackers won the final exhibition game of the season from the Rochester Branches by the score of 8 to 7.

The locals played horrible baseball in the field and in every department during the first stages of the game. They looked awful. Every play they tried to make went wrong and they pulled some bad ones to help it along.

But we are glad to see them kicking all these boots out of their system Saturday. That was the time to get rid of all the bad baseball that they had pent up. By pulling it Saturday it will all be gone for the season.

Won in Ninth.

The Hustlers grabbed off a six-run lead in the first six innings of play and added another in the seventh. The

How Goodyear Fights Loose Threads

After we ended rim-cutting we took up loose threads—another major tire trouble. At the base of the tread in every tire there must be a breaker strip. In all tires save Goodyears this strip is made of closely-woven fabric. And road use often separates this breaker strip from the rubber.

We bought the rights to a patent fabric which we picture here. It cost us $50,000, and it forms our breaker strip. This fabric rivets itself to the rubber. The tread rubber is forced down through these openings, while in a plastic state, forming hundreds of large rubber rivets. Then the whole tire is vulcanized en masse.

This lessens by 60 per cent the risk of this tread separation. And no other maker employs it.

Millions Saved

That is one way in which we save tire users millions of dollars yearly.

Another is our "On-Air" cure. No-Rim-

Cut tires are final-cured on air bags, under actual road conditions. This saves the countless blow-outs due to wrinkled fabric. This extra process costs us $1,500 daily, and no other maker employs it.

In these tires alone is rim-cutting ended in a satisfactory way. We control the method.

And these tires alone have our double-thick All-Weather tread—a smooth-running anti-skid.

16 Makes Cost More

No-Rim-Cut tires are the only tires embodying these costly features.

After years of tests on countless cars they have come to outsell any other tire in the world.

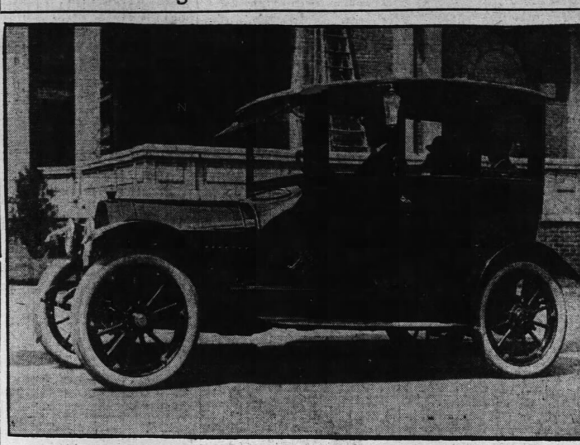

Yet there are 16 makes of tires which sell at higher prices. Some nearly one-half higher. Three such tires cost as much as four Goodyears. That's a curious situation.

How They Scored.

McMillan opened the game for the Hustlers singing to center. He was forced by Breen, who stole second, to throw to Schulte's sacrifice fly.

With two gone, Priest stretched a single into a double by some wise basing, scoring on Schulte's triple to left. Schulte tallied when McConnell batted.

Hoff singled to start the fourth inning. McMillan forced him to advance. Hoff started to steal, when Jennings called to cover, he went to third, tallied when Welchone let the ball rest through.

Crackers Start.

The Crackers started their run-getting in the sixth. McConnell opened it with a single to right. Priest dropped Jennings fly. Welchone doubled to left, scoring McConnell and Jennings. Long singled to center, sending Welchone to third. Harry counted on Flanagan's sacrifice fly.

Breen singled to start the Hustlers' seventh. Barrows sacrificed. Breen tried for third, and when Holland dropped the throw to him, Breen tallied on Schulte's single.

Krieger, hitting for Docher, opened the seventh with an infield hit. McConnell singled, Jennings walked, Welchone singled, scoring Lynch.

Long singled, Jennings coming and Welchone going to third. Welchone counted the tying run on Ribbel's single to left, which fell safely between McConnell and Schulte. Flanagan walked, filling the bases, and Holland broke it up with a single to left.

YELLOW JACKETS DEFEAT ILLINOIS

Eubanks' Twirling Was Too Much for the Westerners, While the Jackets Hit the Ball Timely.

By Hal Reynolds.
By winning yesterday's game 5 to 4, from the University of Illinois, the Tech Yellow Jackets made it two straight in the series of two games with the western team.

The Jackets scored an early lead when they got a well-chanced away hit in the third round when they had the bases populated with no men down. Eubanks' first pitching and a fast double play by the Tech infield retired the side without a tally, however.
Jackets Ran Wild on Paths.
The Jackets ran wild on the paths, stealing seven bases during the game. Illinois used two twirlers during the game, both being found for eleven and eight hits, the visitors were greatly assisted by "Smoky" Eubanks' first pitching and a fast double play by the Tech infield retired the side without a tally, however.
Tech Makes Two Double Plays.
In the fielding line Tech pulled up two double plays, both being made when the opposition was threatening to break up the game.

Eubanks made a wonderful pitching catch of a drive from the left in the eighth inning. He turned a conservative first base manager to hold onto the ball.
For Illinois, Krebs pulled the best defensive stunt when he jumped up and caught a ball hit by Eubanks, drove, which would have scored two runs. It had gone into the field.
"Smoky" Eubanks showed up especially well in the first three innings and in the game against the Tech. He pitched a perfect game, allowing only seven hits, three runs, and two errors.
Burr and Wooten hit hard.
At bat, the pellet Burr and Wooten, with three safeties apiece, and Eubanks with two, did the best work.
Hill made some nice stops and throws around the hot corner.
At bat, the pellet Burr and Wooten, with three safeties apiece, and Eubanks with two, did the best work.
Tech Scores First.
Tech scored the first run of the game in the third inning. Eubanks hit to Larson, who threw wild to first. He went to second on the wild throw and stole third. He scored on the error of Eubanks' grounder.
In the fourth Tech added one more. Burr singled to right, took second on Witherington's sacrifice and third on Eubanks' error.
Tech scored two more in the fourth. Wooten's sacrifice fly to right, Burr's hit high fly down the left field line for two sacks. He tallied on Thomas' single through third base.
In the eighth Illinois added another. Arbeckle singled over third and went to third on Burr's hit to right. Arbeckle scored on the throw in from Phelps' balloon to right.

NASHVILLE VOLLS
CHANGING DAILY
at the keystone this spring, but William's arrival settles that worry.
Pinch McCabe will fill these roles for a while for the Vols, though he will probably get a berth regularly in the outfield after the weather warms up a little.
On the Vol hurling roster there are a couple of youngsters who seem destined to stack up good this season. Stevens, who was shifted to Opportunity City from the Browns, after Bruce Ricker decided that he had a superabundance of indifferent talent and admitted that the reason why the Vols have been able to gain the decisions of the past exhibition game series.
Stevens' Goodie.
While still in his swaddling clothes, baseballically speaking, Stevens has been up against some of the strongest bats in the major leagues and each time he has ventured forth with one of the classiest arrays of hands and smokes of any youngster seen in this Athens of the south since the proverbial Helder and the kid days. He takes the place of Kid Williams, the diminutive centerfielder who went back to Detroit at the close of last season.

The remaining slabbard of the gang of rookies who looks good in Leslie Johnson, a semi-pro youngster who has tried out here a few times before, but who heretofore hasn't had the proper chance. However, Johnson, who has been giving him all kinds of work and in the game against the Tech. He was last week, he had such slugs as Bobby Veach and George Moriarty swinging and breaking their backs trying to hit his slow ball. Johnson depends mainly upon his perfection of his muzzling slowball for his success and those who have seen him in action are confident that he'll be one of the chosen few to remain when the season begins.
The club now representing Nashville is stronger than any in former years at this time of the season. Every one of the players has been kept in the game all the time and as a result they have already demonstrated their class, whether it be inferior or superior, so Manager Hill will encounter no trouble when he begins to apply the knife. While the hitting strength of the Vols is somewhat below par just now, the Tech pilot believes that the first month of the season will find his hopefuls, at least several of them, batting around the old select mat.

NEW SOUTH RUBBER CO.
GETS EFFICIENCY TIRE
The New South Rubber Company has been appointed distributor for the high efficiency tires in Atlanta and the south. Mr. L. S. Crane, manager of the company, issued the following statement in regard to the efficiency tires.
Down in New Jersey, The Volts, who are practically every automobile concern in Atlanta, has served notice on L. S. Crane that they are going after "Betsy" goat in the coming hill climb. Aside from the free-for-all, which will be contested by Betsy, Mary Jane, Bear Cat, Bullet and all the other old goats in the coming hill climb, the event for motorcycles pulling side cars will be of especial interest. On Saturday, May 2, at 1 p. m., will see the biggest and best hill climb ever pulled off.

FIRST ENTRY IS IN FOR THIRD HILL CLIMB

R. W. Billups, of Watkinsville, is in Race—Many Are After Betsy's Goat.

One of the very first to enter the third annual hill climb of the Atlanta Auto and Accessory association, on May 2, was R. W. Billups, of Watkinsville. Mr. Billups declares his intention of making an absolutely clean sweep of every event that his machine can enter.
Mr. Billups' advance agent, Mr. Williams, was in Atlanta yesterday making arrangements for quarters, etc. and especially to see Stewart Avenue.
Unlike many great racers, Mr. Billups is a mechanic of repute. Not being able to obtain just what he wanted in the way of ignition and after being told by one of the largest manufacturers in these lines that his idea was impractical, he simply demonstrated that his idea was entirely feasible by personally making just what he wanted.
Billups' car is a small one, and as no car shall compete in any event above that to which its piston displacement entitles it, he will not be able to run rings around some of the larger ones, for the simple reason that he can't enter their class. But the free-for-all will enable him to "show up" some of the bigger cars.

TECH MEETS MERCER MONDAY AND TUESDAY

Tech will meet her old rival, Mercer, on Monday and Tuesday when the Septate come to Grant field for series of two games.

These games will be the only ones in which the two schools will meet each other this season, so they are sure to be hard fought.
Joe Pitts will probably occupy the firing line for the Jackets on Monday, while Hunt will most likely try to stop the winning streak of the local collegians.

Seven-Passenger

The Studebaker SIX fairly clamors for comparison with "Sixes" selling for more money.

It is the uttermost in six-cylinder smoothness and seven-passenger comfort.

The full floating rear axle is a type of the high standard maintained throughout this splendid car.

And the system of starting and lighting conforms to the same exacting quality requirement.

No matter how much more you are willing to pay—money can't buy a better rear axle or a better system of starting and lighting.

Take these two vital features as a starting point and every feature and every function of the car will reveal to you elements of value beyond which manufacturing skill cannot go.

We have a folder which you should read, fully describing in simple terms the full floating axle and making plain the superiority of this type over others. Call or write for it.

Unanimous for Firestone

From whatever viewpoint tire efficiency is judged, Firestone Non-Skids furnish the full answer.

The packed-in merits of Firestone building satisfy alike the varied standards of progressive dealer, discriminating car owner and conscientious chauffeur. With superlatively good materials, the specialists of America's Largest Exclusive Tire and Rim Factory have produced for you this tire of supreme comfort and car protection, sure traction, maximum heat resistance—every merit for the summer tour, along with skid prevention.

The massive letters of the non-skid tread, right-angled against skid in any direction, are built on to a body of great strength. This unique tread with its extra volume and toughness of rubber answers the demand for safety without the addition of destructive metal appliances. It also answers the demand for economical mileage and minimum tire trouble.

66 Miles High

OUR 1914 production of 50,000 cars, piled one on top of the other, would reach 350,000 feet or 66 miles in the air.

This is over 355 times as high as the Eiffel Tower in Paris, which is the tallest structure in the world.

This is over 466 times as tall as the Woolworth Building or 630 times as high as the Washington Monument.

Also this is over 432 times the length of the Imperator.

Such figures are dazzling. But they help to make you realize the immensity of our production and the large scale on which we conduct our business. And finally and most important of all help to prove the one great big point we have always endeavored to drive home—the economy of producing automobiles in great quantities.

Manufacturing, purchasing and marketing on a 50,000 car basis is infinitely less expensive than on the thousand car basis.

And that is why we can sell the Overland for 30% less than any other similar car made.

BEST TO BE HAD

YOU WILL FIND IN WOODLAND HILLS lots at $12.50 per foot. They will, of course, bring $40 per foot in 3 years; they are obliged to. You pay a small cash payment, the balance yearly. Call for plats.

PURE CREAM

THE BEST WAY TO EXPRESS IT—A block dug out of Piedmont Park at Twelfth street—almost a square block. Your front streets will be Piedmont avenue and Twelfth street; your front yard will be the whole of Piedmont park. It would take a building like the Georgian Terrace. You can buy this big block cheap, just now. I know of two parties who will take stock in it. Register your name with us. You can start with $500, if we can get about eight people.

ATLANTA AVENUE HOMES

WE HAVE SOLD TWO of these homes. We have three more ready—$3,750; $350 cash, $25 month. Near Capitol avenue. They are beauties. Several new homes going up next week in same block. Water, sewer and gas.

2 1/2-2 ACRES

A RICH MAN'S HOME SITE, 1,218 feet front on Williams Mill road, 1,200 feet deep. $12.50 per foot. There are 12 big lots here, 100x1,200, at $1,250 each—or, rather, I should say, 12 young farms on a road that will be some road.

LET US BUILD

YOU A HOME IN WOODLAND HILLS. Take two lots, say 200x400 feet, at $2,500, put $3,000 in a jam-up bungalow—$5,500 all told. This would be ideal. Think of the lot—200x400.

LET US BUILD

ON VIRGINIA AVENUE FOR YOU, or Piedmont avenue, or Cheshire road. We are prepared to give terms.

RIVERSIDE LAST OF PATHS

Speedy Base Running With Good Pitching Is What They Will Rely On To Win Prep Title.

Gainesville, Ga., April 11.—(Special.)—The Riverside Military academy has not been paying very much attention to athletic news for the past two weeks. The local school is right in the midst of its preparation for the first annual inspection by the United States war department.

As soon as the inspection is over, the boys will go right to work on their baseball practice, putting the finishing touches on the hard games that Riverside is to play in the near future.

The first big game after inspection will be with the Boy's High school in Gainesville on Saturday, April 11. The following Monday and Tuesday, the Georgia Military college team, of Mill Springs, will be played here. On the following Saturday, the Richmond academy, from Augusta, will be played locally.

Recent changes have been made in the personnel of the Riverside team, due to several compulsory causes.

Jose's Catching.

Jose, of Columbus, Ga., is now rated as the regular catcher. He is being trained exceptionally well. Jose was developed by Coach Anderson, after McGovern was forced to leave school owing to protracted illness.

The pitching staff is composed of Morris, Dyer, Dyer, and Dyer. Under Anderson's careful training, this staff has been developed into a "strongest staff" that has ever been heard of in the state.

With Dyer on third base, and Strupper at short, two of last year's regulars, Jose, Dyer, and Strupper, down these berths very acceptably. Holman, at second base, was in school last year, while Hanes, at first, is a first year player.

Fast Base Runners.

Riverside will make her claim for the championship of the state on the state on two points, her splendid base running, and well-balanced twirling.

The brief practice that is allowed by the military department of the school has made the duties of Coach Anderson and Graham very hard.

The candidates cannot arrive on the field until after 4:45 o'clock in the afternoon. This leaves but little time for work, and the players are crowded with all this hard work.

But the players have entered into the spirit of things and are showing wonderful improvement daily.

MOBILE IN NEED OF SIX NEW BALL PLAYERS.

Gulls' Opening Line-Up.
Toss, shortstop.
Dyer, third.
Perry, second base.
Lord, center field.
Miller, right field.
Schmidt, catcher.
Hogg, pitcher.

Mobile, Ala., April 11.—(Special.)—This is the batting order that Manager Briscoe Lord will send into action against the Birmingham Barons at Birmingham, next Tuesday afternoon.

This is the best possible line-up that the Gulls can muster at this writing, and it is probable that some new players will be added to the roster before the game.

At present all Manager Lord has is premises. None of the big players has turned over any players to him yet.

Needs Six Men.

Lord needs a couple of infielders, an outfielder and three good twirlers. In other words, he needs about half of his ball club before he can be considered formidable.

Some of these men may be obtained before now and opening day, but with the Federals grabbing every good ball player in sight, Lord is not likely to turn anything loose that looks good, even with an option on it.

The catching department is O. K. Reliable pitchers are on hand and two good outfielders. With two useful twirlers, Perry and O'Dell in the infield, Lord and Clark in the outfield, Schmidt and Berger or Brown behind the bat and Robertson and Hogg on the mound will do on any team in the league.

The Southern league looks slower to 1914 than any season yet. There seems to be but three clubs which show first-class material: Atlanta, Memphis and New Orleans. Birmingham and Chattanooga show only mediocre form, and as for Nashville, Montgomery and Mobile, there remains nothing but men of the Class D caliber.

The three teams mentioned in the first paragraph seem to lie over the remaining five as does a dollar bill over a dime.

BARONS ARE SHIFTED; STRONGER IN EVERY WAY.

Barons' Opening Line-Up.
McDonald, third base.
Kinsley, right field.
McBride, center field.
Corbitt, first base.
Dillon, catcher.
Eliam, shortstop.
Henderson, pitcher.

By ASA ROUNTREE, JR.
(Sporting Editor Birmingham Age Herald.)

Birmingham, April 11.—(Special.)—Stronger than last year both in the field and at the plate, the 1914 Barons team will line up Tuesday for the opening game with prospects bright for an unusually successful season. With added strength on the mound behind the bat, in the outfield and infield, this year's team appears to be a formidable aggregation and one that will wage a hot fight throughout the coming season for premier honor.

The spring fever department on the Barons team has suffered a shaking up, as a result, the team is much more aggressive and faster than that of last season.

Team Shakes Up.

In the outfield Kinsley has been shifted into right from center, while Clyde McBride has also been transferred from the left to the position vacated by the big Tanton. Jimmy Mages, who played in the New England league, will fill the vacancy in left. The new pitcher, Henderson, has been added to the team and just as fast as Bob McShane last year's leading base stealer will not be missed much.

The infield has also suffered only one change over that of 1913. Covington, purchased from the St. Louis Browns, supplanting old Bill McMillan at first. The new man is a splendid fielder, fast on his feet and no weak link at the bat, and the infield will work much faster than previously.

Much expected of McDonald by Manager Briscoe, this year and the Barons expect him to be a big disappointment. He does not prove to be one of the best hot-corner guardsmen in the league.

McDonald will provide with some behind the bat; in fact, so well that he will make it hard for the pitcher to decide which two of the contenders will win the 1914 pennant.

Bravo, and Wallace, formerly in the Appalachian league, are the new shortstops. Each of the trio is delivering the goods in large quantities, and the critics promise to be a hard one for Moley to solve.

Eight hurriers are still in the running for the five places on the team. They are: Tom, Haggard, Gregory, Grimes, Brown, Johnson, and Hardy. Gregory, Brown and Johnson appear to be the best, but having four good fingers to contend for the other three.

Johnson has handled himself in a very capable manner this spring and many are pulling for him to win out in the battle for the fifth position on the staff.

McDonald refuses to announce his opening day battery, but it will in all probability be composed of Haggard and Dillon, the same as last year. Hardy is the only real barn burner on the hurling staff, so it is being hoped that he will win out in his assignment. The same can be said of a slight rearrangement has been made in the batting order.

McDonald has been boosted to lead off the team, and he is expected to hit in place of McBride, who is expected to fifth place. Kinsley, as last season, is occupying the lead-off position.

LOOKOUTS' GREAT NEED IS IN PITCHING STAFF.

Lookouts' Opening Line-Up.

By W. G. FOSTER.
(Sporting Editor Chattanooga Times.)

Chattanooga, April 11.—(Special.)—Manager Harry McGovern will be looking for a new pitcher to replace the one who has been injured. McGovern will be looking for a new pitcher to replace the one who has been injured.

On the basis of the Lookouts are consistently fast, with one exception. The team's one uncertainty is in the pitching. Every other player is taken care of by a tried and true performer, leaving absolutely no work for a pitcher to do.

Except for Gabby Street, the rank and file consists of the ideal complement of service and know the game, but yet have not been "out" long enough to cause a shift in their "go back."

Hitting Strong.

The team hits well. Fred Graff, reputed the poorest hitter of the squad, is hitting .300. Every other player on the team is hitting .300 or better.

Except for Gabby Street, the rank and file consists of the ideal complement of service and know the game, but yet have not been "out" long enough to cause a shift in their "go back."

The team possesses the best pair of catchers in the league in Street and Graham. While there are better players scattered about over the Southern league today than some of these, it is a pity that McGovern cannot find a change in a single position had he the chance.

Well-Balanced Crew.

The same well-balanced aspect is continuing even to this day. The team is playing an outfield position or a position of service and know the game, but yet have not been "out" long enough to cause a shift in their "go back."

The pitching outlook is far from encouraging. The team's one uncertainty is in the pitching. Every other player is taken care of by a tried and true performer, leaving absolutely no work for a pitcher to do.

Except for Gabby Street, the rank and file consists of the ideal complement of service and know the game, but yet have not been "out" long enough to cause a shift in their "go back."

By BRADLEY ALLEN.
(Sporting Editor Montgomery Advertiser.)

Montgomery, Ala., April 11.—(Special.)—This is the way Montgomery will line up for the first game of the season next Tuesday, when the Gulls meet Johnny Dobbie's Policemen.

It is conceded by all Montgomery fans, and everyone knows that, if it might be hard to please the home fans that the players that Gulls and Wilcox have gotten together to represent Montgomery in the Southern league are good ones.

Every one of the players who will wear a Montgomery uniform this season is fast on the path and a team composed of good base runners has a much easier time getting to the counting station than a club with only fair base runners.

Last year, for instance, Memphis had one of the hardest hitting teams in the league yet they were nowhere near the lead in the number of runs scored. Gulls have been very careful in selecting his players and has been giving them careful instructions as to their work on the path.

Good in Exhibition.

During the exhibition games that the Billikens have played in the last few weeks, they have shown a good deal of promise. The team is playing an outfield position or a position of service and know the game, but yet have not been "out" long enough to cause a shift in their "go back."

The outfield is the only possibly weak spot on the team and they may come through all right. Justus, Daly and McDowell are all three exceptionally good fielders and it is just a question as to their stick work.

Last season Justus was hitting over .300 until he was taken sick during the middle of the season, and then until early the last of the season he suffered a bad slump with his stick. Daly, on the other hand, was hitting poorly at the start of the season, but was coming around nicely at the end of the season. McDowell hit fairly well during his stay in this city last year, but he is expected to be probably helped him to a great extent.

Hitting Well.

If these players hit around .300 this season they will be all hitting in the pre-season games. The Montgomery club will hit in the pre-season games.

son in the box, the youngsters will find that they will be given all possible assistance and, too, those who are not steady in the pitcher.

While Gulls is not claiming any pennant-winner this early in the season, it looks like a sure bet that the Billikens will finish well up in the first division.

FINN'S TURTLES EXPECT TO BE IN PENNANT HUNT.

Turtles' Opening Line-Up.

Coyne, right field.
Love, center field.
Stark, third base.

Liebhart, p.

By HERBERT CALDWELL.
(Sporting Editor Memphis Commercial Appeal.)

Memphis, Tenn., April 11.—(Special.)—Michael Joseph Finn, who will this year steer the Turtles through the 1914 Southern league cruise, seems to have molded together a baseball team which if it remains intact, should finish near the front than the Turtles of several years past. While not predicting that any pennant will float over Red River hollow next season, Finn's outlook it seems that Finn's staff will be a contender and look like a first division outfit.

While Finn himself will not commit himself as to the probable line-up, he will start in the opening game against Chattanooga in the Lookout region next Tuesday. The indication is that the above line-up will be his, with the probable exception of third base.

McGovern, secured from Chattanooga, was expected to be the regular third baseman. McGovern, after a few exhibition games, began complaining of a sore arm and has not appeared in the last several games. If it remains intact, should finish near the front than the Turtles of several years past. While not predicting that any pennant will float over Red River hollow next season, Finn's outlook it seems that Finn's staff will be a contender and look like a first division outfit.

Stark at Third.

Dolly Stark, the local boy, has been filling McGovern's place and has been filling it very creditably. Stark has been hitting and fielding well in the pre-season games, and in all likelihood will play third base against the Lookouts today.

Dunkle has made good at first base. He has been the only candidate for that position. Captain Mullins is a certainty at second with Shanley at shortstop. Finn is particularly pleased with the showing of the new recruits of the Turtles so far.

The outfield is sort of an unknown quantity. It looks like Dugan in left, Love in center and Coyne in right for the opener. Coyne is the only one in show much ability with the stick. Dugan is a fast and more fielder, but has not hit much in the exhibition games. Love is a remnant of the 1913 Turtles layout.

From the condition of the pitchers at present it looks like Glen Liebhart will go to the post for the Turtles in the starter. In the last thirteen innings Liebhart has pitched he has not been scored on and looks much better than he did last year.

Scholt in Form.

One of the surprises of the team this year and much to the gratification of Manager Finn has been the showing of George Scholt, the ex-major league catcher. Scholt has been catching wonderful ball and has been getting his hits regularly. He has caught several hit games already and looks like he will certainly be behind the bat when the locals start on the summer grid next Tuesday.

The infield is a fairly good hitting infield, with plenty of grit in them. The team so far has shown more ginger than any team representing the South in the last few years. If the outfielders do their share of hitting, certainly looks like Finn has a team that should at least be in the midst four when President Kavanaugh's league has finished another season.

Morehouse 9, Clark 0.

The game scheduled between Morehouse and Clark university was played at Clark today. This was the first game of the season. Morehouse won by the score of 9 to 0. The winning pitcher was Morris Brown.

Won. Lost. Pct.

Stark at Third.

Dolly Stark, the local boy, has been filling McGovern's place and has been

From the condition of the pitchers at present it looks like Glen Liebhart will go to the post for the Turtles in the starter. In the last thirteen innings Liebhart has pitched he has not been scored on and looks much better than he did last year.

Scholt in Form.

One of the surprises of the team this year and much to the gratification of Manager Finn has been the showing of George Scholt, the ex-major league catcher. Scholt has been catching wonderful ball and has been getting his hits regularly. He has caught several hit games already and looks like he will certainly be behind the bat when the locals start on the summer grid next Tuesday.

The infield is a fairly good hitting infield, with plenty of grit in them. The team so far has shown more ginger than any team representing the South in the last few years. If the outfielders do their share of hitting, certainly looks like Finn has a team that should at least be in the midst four when President Kavanaugh's league has finished another season.

Morehouse 9, Clark 0.

The game scheduled between Morehouse and Clark university was played at Clark today. This was the first game of the season. Morehouse won by the score of 9 to 0. The winning pitcher was Morris Brown.

ing it very creditably. Stark has been hitting and fielding well in the pre-season games, and in all likelihood will play third base against the Lookouts today.

Dunkle has made good at first base. He has been the only candidate for that position. Captain Mullins is a certainty at second with Shanley at shortstop. Finn is particularly pleased with the showing of the new recruits of the Turtles so far.

The outfield is sort of an unknown quantity. It looks like Dugan in left, Love in center and Coyne in right for the opener. Coyne is the only one in show much ability with the stick. Dugan is a fast and more fielder, but has not hit much in the exhibition games. Love is a remnant of the 1913 Turtles layout.

YOU ARE INTERESTED IN A HOME, YOU ARE INTERESTED IN AN INVESTMENT. So, why not let us show you BEAUTIFUL CLAIREMONT PARK? This is the one location that has every advantage. Situated just off Ponce de Leon avenue, adjoining Druid Hills, in two blocks of the car line at present, and with the Ponce de Leon car line to pass by it in the next few months. A place that has all the advantages of churches, schools and every city convenience; yet being away from the factories, dirt and grime of the city. A park in which you can buy a lot, have a home built according to your own plans, make a small cash payment and pay the rest like rent. The terms are the most reasonable ever, the location is ideal, the lots large, elevated, with all improvements, and lying in a section that is surrounded by splendid homes. NOW IS THE TIME, CLAIREMONT IS THE PLACE, and you will have to hurry if you get the pick of these lots, either as a home seeker or investor, as about fifty have already been sold to parties who recognize a good investment, and many have purchased for homes. You are cordially invited to call at our office, and we will take pleasure in going over with you our plans for the development of this property, our prices, terms and its advantage to the home seeker and investor.

IT'S FUNNY TO ME—

THEY MAY BE RINGALOWS are selling at Lakewood Heights, but it should arouse a CURIOSITY on your part to find out the REASON for this. I have sold four bungalows at Lakewood Heights this week—one for $1,000, one for $1,500, one for $1,250, one for $1,750. These were all SOLD before they were completed. If you will get on the car and go out to LAKEWOOD HEIGHTS and take a look you will SEE the reason they sell so fast. There is a sentiment of home life about them and they are PERFECT Bungalows. They are different from anything you have seen in Atlanta. There is a sentiment of home life about them that makes you want one the minute you see it, and when you do see it you will agree with me that there is a vast difference between a BUNGALOW and a BARN. Will have two more completed in about ten days. Price, $1,100 and $1,200. Get off the car at Adair's. It is just TWENTY-TWO MINUTES to CALIFORNIA via LAKEWOOD HEIGHTS.

216 EMPIRE BUILDING. P. R. HOPKINS. IVY 5111.

OPPORTUNITY KNOCKS AGAIN!

TWENTY-FIVE (25) BEAUTIFUL HOMES NOW BEING BUILT IN ALTOLOMA TO BE SOLD UPON EASY WEEKLY PAYMENTS OF $250, $300, $350 A WEEK.

TO THE PUBLIC

You are cordially invited to visit and inspect the most beautiful property ever placed upon the market of the city of Atlanta—a property which is being sold upon the most liberal terms ever incorporated in a contract of sale—a property which has met with the approval of many of the shrewdest business and professional men of Atlanta, as is evidenced by their respective purchases—a property which has already developed faster than other subdivisions placed upon the market long before this property was offered for sale—a property whose future advancement is a certainty, MADE DOUBLY SURE through the absolute faith expressed by myself and associates in the construction of TWENTY-FIVE BEAUTIFUL BUNGALOW HOMES just as fast as men and material can do the work. The lumber used in the construction of these homes is being supplied by E. G. WILLINGHAM'S SONS, who are noted for their high-grade materials; the white lead, creosote and paint are being supplied by C. F. BINDER & SON; and the interior of these homes is being finished with the BIRD NEPHEWET WALL BOARD, supplied by J. W. ALEXANDER & COMPANY. Every one of these homes is being built by FIRST-CLASS day labor.

ALTOLOMA

Semi-Central Property Fronting on Three Streets

THIS property is improved with building, including $125,000. The actual value of this land, $125,000. Owner will consider an offer of $50,000. Phone our office for particulars.

Auburn Avenue

42.5 FEET on Auburn avenue, between North Pryor and Ivy streets. Has frontage 50 feet on 150 feet lot. Frontage 50 feet on a 20-foot alley that runs through the block from Pryor street to Ivy street.

Mr. J. P. Stevens has a modern six-story factory next to this property, which fronts on this 20-foot alley. This alley frontage can be utilized in the same way.

You will stand in front of this property and hear the traffic officers' whistle at Five Points.

Price, $25,000.

Two Blocks off Peachtree Street

WE offer the northeast corner of Courtland and 14th streets. The size of this corner is 120x150 feet. There are two well built 2-story section houses that are leased for $55 per month. This income is more than carry this property until more substantial improvements are needed. Price, $10,000. Terms.

Between Peachtree and West Peachtree Streets

WE offer an apartment house on Alexander street that brings in a yearly income of $1,000.

Take this section as a whole, take the Peachtree street values on the other, the substantial income and the fact that this property is in the investment with the other investments that have been offered you. Size of lot 50x100x100 feet.

Opposite Piedmont Park

BETWEEN Twelfth, Thirteenth and Fourteenth streets, on Piedmont avenue, we offer a number of lots, 50 feet each, ranging in price from $115 to $150 per foot. These lots are two well built 2-story section houses that are leased for $55 per month. This income is more than carry this property until more substantial improvements are needed. Price, $10,000. Terms.

WEST PEACHTREE

NEAR Seventeenth street, on lot 50x 300 feet, we offer a 2-story house of four bedrooms, two baths, sleeping porch, hardwood floors throughout. This place was built for a home. The owner's ideas are the latest, and they have been carried out thoroughly. Certain to please you. Price, $12,000; assume $5,000 loan, balance can be arranged.

ONE BLOCK FROM GEORGIAN TERRACE

WE offer a home investment in No. 25 West Third street. This property is one block from Georgian Terrace, in the best Peachtree section of Peachtree street, and in a section that is fashionable. Size 50x150 feet. Price, $2,000. Terms.

JUNIPER ST. HOME

WE venture to say that there has been fewer better placed lots on Juniper street than on most other good residential streets.

There have been fewer places offered for sale on Juniper street than on most other good residential streets. The fact that this property on Juniper street is "most desirable" is self-evident.

Once in a while a reasonably-priced home on Juniper street is offered for sale.

We are offering No. 205 Juniper street (near Eleventh street) for $7,000. Terms.

PEACHTREE HOME AT LESS THAN ITS VALUE

NEAR Fourteenth street we offer one of Atlanta's handsomest homes, on lot 121 by 150 feet. (The lot runs through the block to Crescent avenue.) This is an absolute bargain. If you will come our office we will be glad to give particulars.

West Fourteenth Street

THIS section needs no introduction. Reasonable price homes on this street are scarce. If you have seen as if one has to file his application for a home on this street. We are looking for the best, let us show you this attractive home on a nicely elevated shaded lot (50x175 feet), for $11,500. Terms.

103 ELIZABETH STREET

THIS is one of the handsomest homes on Elizabeth street, in Inman Park; which street contains some of the most expensive residences in Atlanta. Among the beautiful homes on Elizabeth street are the Chapman residence (a $75,000 home), the residence of Mr. Asa G. Chandler and Mr. H. B. Hester. This is a 10-room house, 100x125 feet, on a nicely elevated lot, very reasonable terms. Price, $12,500.

BROOKLINE STREET

$1,500—A 6-room cottage near Stew. art avenue, within a block of the new North Decatur school. For sale on very easy terms.

THIRD ENDURANCE RUN TO BE HELD APRIL 19

Atlanta Motorcycle Club to Go to Rome and Return on Next Sunday.

At the regular meeting of the Atlanta Motorcycle Club held Friday night at 214 Peachtree street, it was decided to hold the third and last of the series of the three endurance contests on April 19.

This run will cover a distance of 191 miles, and will leave Atlanta at 6 o'clock, going to Dallas, Rockmart, Cedartown, Cave Springs and Rome. Contestants will take dinner at Rome, and leaving Rome will go to Cartersville and Marietta, arriving back in Atlanta in the evening at 5:30. In addition to the regular control of each of the above named points, there will be possibly five secret controls. A regular schedule between these points will be maintained with a ten minutes' delay at each control.

Any rider receiving outside assistance in any manner will be penalized. No points for each offense. Riders having falls from their machines or allowing their machines to fall on the ground or assisting their machines in any way by hand or through any man, stretching, puncturing, the losing of any nut or screw from their machines, the breaking of any part, all of these different features carry a point for penalization.

Machines Examined.

Before the riders leave from the first control, their machines are examined by the judges, and after their return in the evening, these machines are checked in, and the rider who covers the entire trip without having any of the above numerous points against him is awarded the perfect score of one thousand points.

Considerable interest is being centered in this particular endurance contest, as the combined score of the three runs will decide the winner of the gold medal for the best score.

In the previous two runs, the best scores were made by A. A. Farish, who rides a Harley-Davidson, and L. Hudson, who rides a Thor, and Johnny Allen, the handling Harley-Davidson dealer. These three are the contestants for the gold medal.

Banquet Next.

It was decided at the meeting that the club would give a banquet at the Ansley hotel on the night of the 21st of April, where the gold medal will be awarded.

This third and last endurance contest is creating considerable interest among the motorcyclists of Atlanta, and it is expected that there will be about fifty riders who will participate. Of course quite a number of these will go along with the boys just for the fun of the ride, as the schedule is arranged in such a manner that almost any rider of a motorcycle can keep up with the best.

There is no racing or speed, just a steady average clip of about 30 miles per hour. Quite a number of the riders will carry with them their cameras and photographs of different scenes and groups will be taken during the run. Every rider of a motorcycle is invited to join in this run. All that is necessary is to be at the starting point, 214 Peachtree street, at 7 o'clock on April 19.

Two Days' Run.

The next meeting will probably be held after the banquet. Details will be arranged then for a big special endurance contest that will be pulled off April 25 and 26.

This contest will probably consist of many miles and a route will be arranged from Atlanta to return to Atlanta to Columbus, to Macon to Atlanta, and back to Atlanta. The route will be selected and special prizes will be offered to the rider having the best score. This run will cover all the way from Atlanta to Columbus, to Macon, to Atlanta, and back to Atlanta.

One of these two routes will be selected and special prizes will be offered to the rider having the best score. This run will cover all the way from Atlanta to Columbus, to Macon, to Atlanta, and back to Atlanta.

No More Motor Trucks Shaken to Pieces

The call for a Motor Truck Tire, essentially practical, has been answered—answered so completely that countless Commercial Car Owners have ceased to concern themselves further as to tire equipment. Here are solved the problems of economy of operation, increased mileage, utmost car-protection and car-durability. Whether for light Commercial Delivery Car or Heavy Truck, you'll find Motz Cushion Tires ideal.

"Good Bye" Forever to Punctures and Blowouts

You who use pneumatic tires, aren't you tired of punctures and blowouts?

Are you not ready to say farewell to breakdowns, idle men, idle cars and delayed deliveries?

Wouldn't you like to avoid buying new tires every few weeks and footing excessive tire repair bills?

You can do it. You can avoid all these troubles, trials and burdensome costs. Untold hundreds have done so.

Protection to Trucks

Or perhaps you have been induced to try solid tires.

So that in place of punctures and blowouts you have uncertain mileage, vibration, frequent adjustments, and increased up-keep cost.

And those hard unyielding tires just shake your truck to pieces. Thousands have thus met their ruin.

Far better use Motz Cushion Tires. Then no shattered car—no need for constant re-adjustment.

Motz Cushion Tires

How It Was Done

Men asked, "How was such a tire built? How can a tire, without compressed air, give the car ample protection?"

A combination of the following structural features have accomplished it.

First—The Motz Cushion Tire is chemically different from the ordinary tire. Only the famous "417" rubber is used. These tires contain no hard rubber or metal. They are lively rubber throughout.

Second—The Motz Cushion Tire contains more rubber than other tires. These features, combined, produce a degree of resilience hitherto unknown, save in pneumatic.

Harley-Davidson $200

Many exclusive features, including Double Clutch Control, Double Brakes, Full-Flowing Valve, Free Wheel Control, and Flexible Flat Belt Drive with Harley-Davidson Motor.

THIS latest belt-driven Harley-Davidson model boasts of more exclusive and important features than any belt model ever produced by the Harley-Davidson Motor Company or any other manufacturer.

The belt tension is adjustable by means of the patented Harley-Davidson idler operated by hand lever just left of the tank. Experience with the high powered machines of the present day has proven that the ordinary center type brake alone is not sufficient. For this reason this new Harley-Davidson carries, in addition, a special Harley-Davidson brake operated by a convenient foot lever.

Large, comfortable, folding foot-boards, a double lubricating system, all steel luggage carrier, Bosch magneto (lightest priced magneto made), priming gun, priming gun, large metal tool box, and three-inch tires in addition to other features mentioned, make this Harley-Davidson the greatest value for the money ever offered.

Complete catalog of 1914 Harley-Davidson motorcycles and Harley-Davidson sidecars will be mailed to any address upon request.

COTTON STATES MAY OPEN SEASON MAY 4

Plans for Reorganization Complete—Six Teams in the League So Far.

Mobile, Ala., April 11.—Plans for the reorganization of the Cotton States league on an abbreviated basis have been perfected. An eighty-game schedule will be played commencing on May 4. The league that will comprise the circuit will represent Jackson, Miss.; Jacksonville, Fla.; Birmingham, Ala.; Meridian and Tupelo.

The circuit will still open for two more teams in case it is found feasible to enlarge it to eight clubs.

A salary limit of $300 a month has been adopted, and no team will be allowed to carry more than twelve players.

The opening games will be played at Meridian, Tupelo and Mobile. The Fourth of July battles will be played in the two Jacksonville games. The addition of Jackson, Tenn., is going to be the life-saver for the league. It is one of the best baseball towns in the South.

Kinsella Wins.

London, April 11.—Walter Kinsella, the New York court tennis professional, today beat Cecil Parra, former world's professional court tennis champion, in a match at Prince's club by three sets to two. The score was 6-4, 3-4, 4-2, 3-4, 6-3.

SAVANNAH SOCIAL NEWS

Savannah, Ga., April 11.—(Special Correspondent.)—Two marriages of Miss Lillie Carmichael to Mr. Thomas J. Dunn will take place at the home of the bride Wednesday evening, April 22. Only members of the family and a few intimate friends will be present at the ceremony, which will be performed by the bridegroom's brother, Mr. Joseph Dunn, of Lynchburg, Va. Mrs. Joseph Dunn, of Fort Worth, Tex., will be the sister of the bride, and Mr. James Dunn, of Petersburg, Va., will be the brother of the bride. The other attendants will be Miss Mary Latta, Davenport, of Richmond; Miss Phelan Burke, of Norfolk; Mrs. Hamden Chamberlain, of Richmond; and Miss Margaret Charlton, of Savannah. The groomsmen will be Mr. Sam Venable, of Baltimore; Mr. Bolling Wilcox, of Petersburg; Mr. Lewis Chamberlain, of Columbia; and Mr. Anderson R. Carmichael, of Savannah.

A series of parties has been given this week for Miss Addie May Gibson, whose marriage to Dr. Justin Lowe Jackson will take place Wednesday in Wesley Monumental church. Miss Gibson's maid of honor will be Miss Gibson's maid of honor, and her other attendants will be Mr. Fred Slater and Mrs. W. W. O'Connell. Dr. Jackson and his attendants will be Dr. B. H. Gilchrist, Mr. Charles Robinson, Dr. Walter Norton and Mr. Herman C. Schupp. Miss Gibson's best man will be Mr. Myers. Little Miss Katie Gibson and her friends will be the bridesmaids.

A quiet Easter wedding of cordial invitation was given at the home of Mr. Emmet Chatham Wilson, April 11, of several friends who will be present at the ceremony, which will take place at St. John's church at 12:30 o'clock Sunday evening, April 12. Miss Selma Hayward will be the sister of the bride, and her maid of honor will be Miss Selma Hayward.

BESSIE TIFT COLLEGE.

A unique and beautiful program was held on Saturday evening by the members of the Kappa Delta society. The purpose of the program was to celebrate the founding of the society in 1900. The stage was attractive in its decorations of yellow and white, the society colors, and the program was a success. A large number of old Kappa Delta returned to the college for this occasion, and some of them participated in the program. The three members of the faculty who were Kappa Delta during their student days were also present. The program was a success, and the society has a rich heritage in the young women who have composed its membership. It is especially the society's members who are fortunate in the selection of presidents from year to year, whose lofty ideals have helped to give to the society a rich heritage in the young women who have composed its membership. "We'll Sell a Carload of Refrigerators At the Opening of the Spring Season By Making the Prices a Fourth Less"

THUS spoke our buyer when we canvassed the pros and cons of stocking refrigerators. The buyer has handled refrigerators for years; knows them inside and outside. In his former positions he has sold a carload or more of refrigerators every season. He sells many at a small profit, rather than a few at a large profit. We let him have his way; his first carload of refrigerators is here.

Put Matches in These Refrigerators and They Will Keep Dry As a Bone

These refrigerators are constructed to insure a perfect circulation of cold air throughout the provision chamber. One could place matches in the provision chamber and strike them on the inside after 60 days' storage. Substantially built of solid oak in a handsome golden finish. White enamel or porcelain lined food compartments. Various sizes and styles; all at four less than the prices you customarily pay:

Thirty-Nine More Badges Won by High School Boys

The high school athletes of the state of Georgia are taking a great deal of interest in the athletic badge contest that is being conducted by The Constitution and the State High School association this year.

Excitement in three events prescribed in the rules of the contests, which are familiar to all, sterling silver badges are given to the high school boys and silver bronze badges to the two upper grammar grade boys and to the first year high school pupils.

Berry School Winners.
At the Berry school at Mount Berry, Ga., with 200 students twenty-nine boys won badges in the contests held there last week. Four winning sterling silver badges and twenty-five winning silver bronze badges.

The boys winning sterling silver badges were James Howell, Clay Komer, Joel McCoy and Charles White. The boys winning silver bronze badges were James Harper, Marlin Ballard, Rickett Benton, Theodore Butler, Joe Cook, William Jackson, John Ferguson, Thomas Fluke, Fletcher Drake, Oscar Freeman, George Gulev, John Hardman, Curtis Hooten, Burton Massey, Martin McCallister, Mitchell Nunn, Howard Odum, John Ferguson, Henry Rogers, Lester Sway, William Sway, Carl Smith, Steve Swan, Bascomb Sorrels and Virgil Smith.

Greensboro Winners.
At the Greensboro school, twenty boys won badges, five winning sterling silver and fifteen winning silver bronze. The boys winning silver bronze badges were Lewis Hall, Paul Hightower, Halbert Harris, Echols Seely and Thomas Hall. The boys winning sterling silver badges were W. J. Bowell, Reid Moffatt, Reid Mosley, Kelso Mullins, Reginald Robinson.

Badges Delivered.
Badges have been forwarded for delivery to the winners to Grand Frost and Newman Price, of the Savannah school. These boys won sterling silver badges. The announcement of their winning being made last Sunday.

At the Thomasville high school, twelve boys have been forwarded nine of them get silver pins and three of them get silver bronze. The congressional district high school meets at which the winners of the individual school meets assemble at some given point to contest for the winners in each district will be held during the present month and the next.

District Meets.
Here is a list of the meets, the dates and the places at which the meets will be held:

- First District—Metter, Ga., April 17-18.

College Games.
Tallahassee, Fla., April 11.—(Special).—Shaw, who pitched for Florida yesterday, came back today and held Auburn at his mercy. Florida boys knocked Davis out of the box in the fifth and pounded Davis, who followed him.

Bonner, for Auburn, made a sensational catch of a sure two-bagger in the eighth. McNeil, for Auburn, and Buie and Grace, for Florida, started at bat. The greatest feature of the game was the wonderful pitching of Shaw. Stupid base running lost three more runs for Florida. Davis pitched well except in the seventh. Embury and Mosley were finding stars for Florida.

EASTER

THE best street suits and frocks for Spring are extremely simple, gaining their distinction from exquisite color harmonies and the beauty of the silhouette. The three models in the sketch demonstrate this.

The central figure shows a gown in tango, yellow duvetyne with a black velvet girdle. The bodice is cut to simulate a bolero worn over a flat waist with a calli Myr collar. The little toque is somewhat on the lines of a Turkish fez with two snipped ostrich pompons.

THE extremely modish saint on the prie dieu bought her halo in a millinery shop. It is an old colored ribbon, wired to a skull cap of black velvet. The suit is of sap green French tulle. The cut-away coat ends in a faring flounce, which harmonizes with the circular tunics on the skirt. The rest is of gold colored moiré.

THE one on the left is of purple silk poplin, with soft draped revers of black and white stripes and a girdle of one of the new French ribbons that have raised figures in velvet on a satin ground. The skirt is draped en bouffant at the top. The guimpe is of white chiffon, fastened with jet buttons and finished with a new edition of the upstanding lace collar. With this is worn an aeroplane hat in vivid green.

ADMITLY sweet the staid soldier perched in the room, and the rustle of Lucille Love's skirts seemed still to sound against the walls of the tiny room which General Sumpter Love used as his private office; the echo of Lieutenant Gibson's pleading tones had not departed when the door leading to the servants' quarters moved.

A cautious fraction of an inch at a time, a sound so faint that nothing lived between it and silence succeeded the departure of the General's aide and the girl he loved, the butler's face framed itself on the threshold, the door was opened that led to the ball room, a burst of music vibrated there, then all was silence. The butler closed the door swiftly behind him and glided across the floor, stooping before the safe, his dexterous fingers manipulating the knobs with a careless certainty that spoke of the master crackman, his face against the cold steel, his ears fairly pealed with the beauty of his listening for the click of falling tumblers. His expression betrayed no anxiety. He knew his worth, knew the fragility of the safe in which his master placed no great confidence and to which he had consigned the papers and orders he had just received from Washington until the ball was over and he had time to study, the instructions at his leisure.

The crackman heard a sigh of relief as his sensitive finger tips told him the last tumbler had fallen. The great door swung open to his tug. For a second he waited, listened to the shuffle of feet, the murmur of the orchestra. Then his hand disappeared, exploring the contents of the safe.

He was swift; he was certain; he was sure. Not a paper was disarranged. His fingers turned the little white cards, drifting among the General's papers with a certainty that betrayed great familiarity. With a sigh of relief he stared at the sealed packet, he had just seen the army officer receive and place here the butler thrust it in his pocket, drawing out a package of banknotes and putting it in the tiny vault where the papers had been. The door closed softly, the knobs whirring under the man's touch.

Again he waited, listening, listening. The vibrations of the dancers' feet continued at second, the strains of music died. With the soldier's glide of a panther the butler slipped across the floor and closed the door behind him. Not one motion had been wasted. For months he had served in his mental capacity for his opportunity. For months he had waited would continue to serve in order that no suspicion might rest upon him. Quietly, as though nothing had happened, he stepped to the great kitchen where the little brown servants of the household were scurrying heedlessly about, frightened at even the monitory glances of their master when the elaborate collation for the guests was still to be served.

A word here, a hint there and the Filipino were on their way to the General's dining room with their burdens. All capability, all dexterity, without ostentatiousness, a move, the butler brought his underlings back to the state of perfection into which he had trained them. As unobtrusive of the solemn envelope in his breast pocket as though such a thing as a burr glared as had never been, Thompson alias Tommy the Duke, alias "Chir" Tom and wanted for just such jobs in many police departments of the world went about his work, only heaving a huge sigh of relief when General Love nodded curtly in token that the room where the buffet had been served might be cleared.

Ten minutes later the future expression came back to his face, the healthy chuck to his frame. Noisily he glided out the rear of the house, scurrying across the moon-splashed parade ground and losing himself in devious windings among the officers' kennels upon the military reservation. Manly self, the dawning hum of the myrtle insects rising to the falling with the ever-recurring waves of heat that floated in from the ocean. Only the General's mansion glowed with a golden structure transformed by the eerie witchery of night into a palace of gold, the windows huge diamonds with each face catching in its heart a swirl of moon-beams. Thompson nodded to himself as though very well satisfied, then slipped down a narrow alley, passed by the magnificent houses that leaned at drunken angles toward one another, the filthy windows winking at him from their neighbors. Before the largest of these places the butler passed a second. His hand reached toward the bell-pull. From some distant part of the house came back an echo. Slowly, very slowly the door swung open, revealing the figure of the thief-butler.

CHAPTER II. The Power of Suspicion.

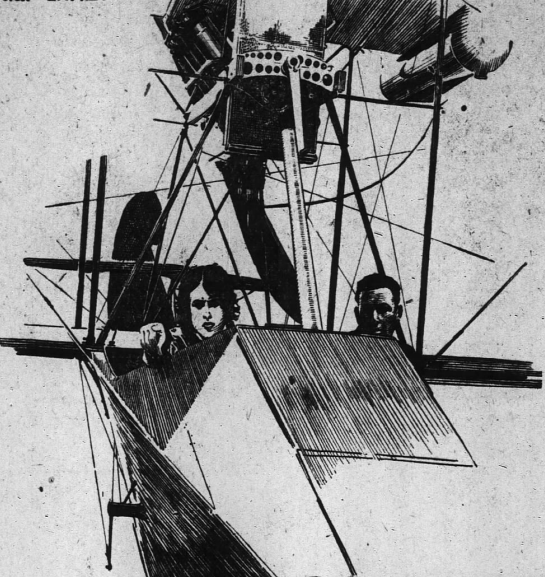

GENERAL SUMPTER LOVE, U. S. A., smiled tolerantly to himself as he overheard the low voices of his aide and Lucille coming from the little corner room in which the young lieutenant had hidden his sweetheart away from the avid dancers who would have taken her away from him. The old man closed his eyes a moment, the harsh lines which absolute detachment and war had scuped upon his face slowly disappearing before the broad expression retrospection placed there, an expression summed up by memories of the days at the Point before ever a thought of oak leaves upon his shoulders dared intrude itself within his cadet mind. Before Lucille was born, before Lucille's mother had made her home, alone in this great house.

The General shook his bulky shoulders and rose, moving toward his private office. It was seldom that General Love came to the room when he felt the pain of realizing them to be worth more than memories provided either came to the threshold of another's life. The courtship of his aide had finally been succeeded by another and another room soon he occupied in Officers' Row, leaving him alone in this great house.

He wondered if all fathers felt this way, wondered if he could gladly give his daughter to another man and be happy watching that other man hold her. And the thought was so short. That very hour in the harbor night he heard the Senate's confirmation of young Gibson's nomination to the rank and pay of Captain. The two men had agreed that the matter should wait on that and the General had to admit that the aide had lived in his word. But then Gibson always did that.

Again the General shook his shoulders stridently to his private office. Only in work could he get relief from these fits of depression. There was always work to be done, for the little brown nocks loved their fighting, were never satisfied with peace and quiet, and he stood at the window, staring at the great boat in the harbor, at the dashing waters, restful new state for the harbor. The moonlight from the soft tropical breeze moved caressingly across it. And that boat might bring word of his aide's promotion. He turned toward his desk, firmly commanding the soldier

"Immediately I get through with the orders that came tonight, Lieutenant," he said briskly, "you put the orders and papers from Washington in the safe as I told you. Will you get them for me?"

The aide flushed a bit, his fingers playing at the gold strap at his side.

"Why, why, General," he stammered, "I don't remember these."

"You snatched the old man. The slightest infraction of military system touched his heart on the raw. He studied his aide curiously when he returned and began fumbling with the knobs of the safe. Gibson was still embarrassed at his blunder, realized his superior was thinking that since Lucille entered into his life these wanderings had shown a decided tendency to pile up the packet. An expression of incredulous dismay was upon his face as he drew out a bundle of bank notes.

"Why, I don't remember these," he cried, then, with an expression of relief, "you have already been here, sir?"

General Love's tone was peremptory, crackling. "I don't believe I have any more," he said. "Come, come! These papers I gave you, Lieutenant."

The aide finished through the papers in the safe, the expression of confidence on his face changing to one of blank incredulity, then with dismay as a second thought ransacking failed to reveal the long envelope. He drew a long breath as he straightened to attention, his face very white and drawn, his voice no more than a whisper.

"Not there!" like the crackling of fire in dry twigs was the old man's voice. "Not there, sir! Then, perhaps they too may be in your room."

"No, sir. I distinctly recall placing them in the order book. There was no money there at the time."

The human body surcharged a room with electricity at times of greatest stress. Rigidity the two men stared into each other's eyes, doubt, changing to suspicion, suspicion to accusation on their faces. But two men had access to that safe, but two men knew of the arrival of the orders and papers. General Love suddenly rose, his chair scraping raspingly upon the tense silence.

"Lieutenant Gibson," he began, his voice rivaling the sound of the scraping chair. "Lucille mentioned a moment ago that you had suddenly acquired sufficient money to satisfy an immediate marriage."

"Yes, sir. A legacy."

"Leaving the combination of this safe, with secrets which are invaluable to the United States; with secrets which are dark medicine whose instrument was humanity, a thousand wires and yet again a thousand, and all were directed toward revenge against one man, toward the destruction of General Love. What hideous memories that name of Love evoked. It sent his thoughts back to the horrible event of his life, to the military college, the scene of his disgrace where he had been exposed to the scorn of his fellow classmates. The proofs of his dishonorable plotting and treason work, had been furnished by Cadet Sumpter Love. His successful rival for the love of a beautiful girl. The conclusive and uncontrovertible proofs of his guilt had resulted in his dismissal from the service and disenfranchisement as a citizen of his native country."

Bitter and more malignant grew this feeling of hatred against this dangerous enemy. His childhood days, this man now General Sumpter Love, as his mind swept back to the days of a never to be forgotten past, the days of his downfall and disgrace.

Over and over he turned the stolen papers. Over and over it was in his mind, he was drawing about the old army officer. Many more there would be before his work was finished, and the great eyes were slightly dimmed by the Future—planning—planning—planning. The butler coughed nervously and his master looked up, a faint, little cry of protest sounded clear and distinct against the dead silence. The young who responded to send Lieutenant Gibson to him. General Love permitted a smile to play about the corners of his stern mouth as the rustle of a woman's skirt reached his ears simultaneously with the click of his aide's boots. Came a brief, whispered conversation outside the door, then the aide stood upon the threshold at attention, Lucille hiding behind him in an attitude of mock timidity. The old man his his mousethroat, then smiled broadly.

"Well," he demanded, fumbling among the papers that littered the floor, "what have you got to say for yourself, young woman?"

Lucille slipped across the floor, twining a pair of white arms about her father's neck, her soft velvet of her cheek smoothing his brow, leathery one. It was the way she had coaxed him when a child, the way she had never outgrown or known to fail.

"It's about Dick's promotion, Dad," she whispered. "It hasn't come working all day, and that means wait at least another week. If there was any chance of the Senate's failing to confirm it, we wouldn't bother you, but a month is such a long time and—Dad has some money now."

"Yes—yes—yes," the General retorted gravely, a twinkle in his eye that belied the tone. "But from what I've seen tonight and the last week since Harter started his acrobatic maneuvers, I thought there might be some change in your plans."

Lucille flushed prettily, her eyes flashing a mocking smile at the stalwart young officer in the doorway.

"Mr. Harter's a very nice man," she defended. "Even if Dick does get jealous. Besides, a girl has to be amused somehow when busy old generals keep their officers working all day and night."

The General straightened in his chair, brought back to the work he had planned for the evening by her words. Lucille sighed as she caught the difference, knew there would be no more teasing longer when his mind turned to the anxious duties which never ceased to pile upon him.

"You think it over, dear," he said kindly.

man's hand fell from salute as he stepped swiftly toward his sweetheart. General Love's arm reached out and drew the sobbing girl to him, his left hand outstretched as though the mere touch of his side would be deadly. Gibson halted in his tracks. Again his arm rose swiftly in salute then, without a word, he turned, his steps falling fainter upon the ears of the pair who listened with laden hearts.

ported that. The telephone rang and the spy stiffened in his chair, no more the dreamer, Louque was at work, finishing this detail in his scheme of revenge.

CHAPTER IV. "For the Honor of a Man."

IN a world of mental and physical inequalities such as this there would be but scant chance for the weakling were it not for a kind Destiny taking the cards in his own hands and stacking them to make the game more equal. With the ruins of every hope smashing about her, without a thought save the need for a confidant and friend in time of distress, she took up the telephone to speak with her chum, the wife of a young officer who had only just reached the post a month before.

On such slight things do hinge great consequences; on such trifles may be decided the wrecking of the most cunning plot of the master mind that dominates nations. For a second, assailed by suffering though her mind was, she did not care the significance of the orders being given by the man whose wife had crossed her ire. Then a feeling of fairness caught her to rest at the power and strength she caught in the tones. She listened, conquering her fear in one triumphant throbs of love for the imprisoned officer. Harter catches could be.

"General Love's orders and papers are in my possession now. For Shanghai on the Empress tonight. Have the launch ready."

And then the buzzing of the instrument told her that she could hear no more. It seemed too cruel, too impossible that her hopes should be raised so high only to be shattered. The General's orders and papers—The Empress for Shanghai heart sinking at sight of the smoke curls spewing from the big liner's funnels, General Love was ready—ready—and her sweetheart was arrested.

Resolution so vague as to be indecipherable urged her across the floor and out the door. She did not stop to analyze the impulse which urged her feet across the parade ground, down the streets of Manila toward the dock. Her bosom was rising and falling testaciously with the effort and a mad despair reassured her as she caught the signs of readiness from the Empress and saw how many hands were busy about the ship which carried the precious orders.

She best her tiny feet dexterly together. There came a humming sound from the boat. It reminded her of another sound she had heard recently, a sound she would identify with the solution of her problem—Harter and his aeroplane.

It was five miles, but her horse could not reach the dock in the time she had. In amusement the groom looked at her as he followed her order. She leaped into the saddle and through the moonlight she dashed, the little mare accepting this new task of his mistress with delight.

The aviator had only just returned from the dance when she flung herself from the mare and grasped him fiercely by the shoulders, shaking him in the vehemence of her command. He stared at her unbelievably as he made out what she desired, but there was something in the straining eyes, the drawn face, that told her deadly earnestness. His lips opened for a protest when she was being asked by the girl he loved to risk her life, and his own, to save the name of his strongest rival. Torn between conflicting emotions, he stared at her, half-unbelieving, as with appalling intensity she pointed wildly out across the bright blue water in where the majestic liner was steaming rapidly towards the horizon. Lucille hung breathlessly on the aviator's every action. SHRINERS of North America to Gather in ATLANTA

FORREST ADAIR
POTENTATE YABAB TEMPLE

AUDITORIUM
WHERE CONVENTION WILL BE HELD

"A WAY down south in no land ob cotton" will soon be a tune familiar to all Shriners' ears—for they are Dixie-bound. Atlanta, the Gate City of the South, will be the scene of the annual convention of the Shriners of North America, May 13-14.

Every state in the union and many sections of Canada will be represented. Over 30,000 Nobles are coming, and they will be entertained with old-fashioned southern hospitality, famous since ante-bellum days.

"Dar's buckwheat cakes an' injun butter. To make you fat, an' a little fatter."

There will be southern sunshine and smiles of welcome from the southern girl—the Peachtree girl—with raven tresses and flashing eyes. Her brother's a Shriner, you bet, and she'll be wearing a white fez in May.

Then, there's that fragrant mint bed!

It is being kept under "intensive cultivation" for the Shrine.

In fact, everything that Atlanta can do, she is doing to make the gathering a magnificent success. And it's as a "doer" that Atlanta shines.

The city will be literally transformed for the convention. By permission of the mayor and city council the local Shriners' entertainment committee, headed by Potentate Forrest Adair, of Yabab Temple, will take full control for the time of the whole street lighting system of Atlanta.

Great white globes with the Shriners' emblems thereon will be substituted for the top globes of the White Way clusters throughout the whole heart of the city. Arches and other fancy schemes of illumination will be erected over the down-town street crossings.

Turn Night Into Day.

The great dome of the capitol will be silhouetted in light, and special electrical decorations on hotels and business houses will make the whole central section a blaze of lights.

All this illumination will burn night by night, and the city will be awake every hour of the twenty-four while the Shrine is in session. There will also be flags and bunting in profusion.

Elaborate social functions and entertainments are in preparation, including a grand ball in the Auditorium-Armory on both evenings of the convention, at which two orchestras will be provided so that there will be no cessation of dancing. This auditorium, the largest in the south, with a seating capacity of nearly 8,000 people, has been reserved by the Shriners for the week. In this auditorium the annual southern seasons of Metropolitan grand opera are held and here Caruso has sung to the largest audiences in his career.

To Open All Clubs.

In addition to the special social functions, Atlanta's five golf courses, country clubs, lakes with bathing and boating, parks, theaters and other facilities, will all be devoted to the entertainment of the Shrine.

Recognizing the utter impossibility of issuing many thousands of courtes cards, every social club in Atlanta has decided to recognize the Shriners' visiting card and will open their doors to all Shriners.

Certain sections of the country are noted for particular forms of hospitality; some for clam bakes; others for fish fries, and the like; but one's epicurean education is not complete until he has enjoyed the form of hospitality for which Georgia is particularly famed—the old fashioned barbecue.

The barbecues are usually held in a pine grove near some sparkling spring. Pigs and sheep are roasted whole in pits dug especially for the purpose. The tables spread beneath the trees for the Shriners barbecue will accommodate from 2,000 to 3,000 persons.

Preparations have already been completed for adequately housing the immense gathering. Atlanta's hotel facilities are splendid, and in addition, the committee is erecting a large and comfortable building at Ponce de Leon park, where between 6,000 and 7,000 members of the patrols and bands will be cared for.

The Southern railway has set aside a part of its central yards where 416 Pullman cars may be parked. The Sea Board and other railroads have jointly arranged additional parking space, and it is estimated that there will be between 100 and 700 Pullmans parked during the meeting.

Whole Hotels Reserved.

Not only one hotel is reserved for the representatives of the Imperial Council meetings, but the Piedmont and Ansley hotels have both been set aside in their entirety for the Atlanta convention, so that representatives will be enabled, if they desire, to bring members of their families with them.

California, which desires to capture the 1915 meeting, has engaged four entire floors of the Kimball House, and has obtained the consent of the owners to change the name for that week to "Hotel California." They will come in four special trains with a brass band of 150 pieces and with 150 members of their uniform patrol. Their electricians will be here three weeks in advance to decorate the building inside and out. The Californians will keep open house, using "the spacious ball room as a reception hall, and will dispense California fruits and wines.

The events of the convention will be gorgeous and spectacular. They will rival New Orleans' Mardi Gras.

A Gorgeous Pageant.

There will be two immense parades, one Tuesday morning at 9 o'clock, forming a vast official escort for the Imperial council and members of the Imperial potentate from the hotel to the place of meeting.

The second parade is to be at 3 o'clock Wednesday evening. In this parade not only members of the patrols and bands, but all the Shriners as well will take part, wearing full evening dress with red fetes. Noble members of the parades. The Tuesday parade will be headed by Potentate Adair as commander-in-chief of the parades. The Tuesday parade will be three or four miles long. The Wednesday night parade will be seven or eight miles long. There will be between sixty and seventy-five bands playing at one time in these pageants.

Seventy-odd bands playing at one time.

Can't you hear 'em?

More bands than have ever played for the inauguration of a president of the United States.

More bands than were ever attuned for the coronation of the greatest king or emperor in Europe!

Among these bands will be the famous "millionaire band" from the middle northwest, noted because every member of it is a coupon clipping plutocrat.

Half a dozen little bands are coming with skirts, bare knees and bagpipes.

Indian Head Coming.

Then there will even be an Indian band with tom-toms, to do the snake dance at Five Points and the sun dance along Whitehall. This band of real Indians will be brought by the mascot for the temple on its pilgrimage to Atlanta. The band is composed of Blackfeet Indians from Glacier National park. Among them will be hunters, medicine men, singers, dancers, squaws and papooses. They will come with all their gorgeous feathers, blankets and Indian ornaments and during the week their camp will be pitched on a Peachtree street lawn. In this party will be the beautiful Indian girl, Dawn Mist, who is considered the most graceful and accomplished member of her race in the northwest.

These singing parades will outshine and outlast anything this side of the Orient. There will be real camels. There will be men dressed in real Oriental robes with real Oriental jewels and carrying gleaming scimitars. There will be a cowboy band.

Just imagine the English Durbar, the inauguration parade at Washington and Buffalo Bill's Wild West show, all marching at the same time in the same street, and you will have some faint idea of what Atlanta will look like when these big pageants begin to move.

The Arab Patrol.

The Arab patrols in Oriental uniform are always wonderfully attractive features of every national convention. The competitive patrol drills this year will be judged by United States army officers, selected from Fort McPherson and the department of the Gulf, which has headquarters here.

"The Convention City."

And now a word about the city that is going to entertain this tremendous gathering.

Beautiful, charming, sunny Atlanta has been a charming hostess on many occasions, and already many great convocations have been held here by national organizations which have learned the delights of the liveliest city in the south. Atlanta is pre-eminent as a convention city.

To begin with, Atlanta has the great Auditorium-Armory, with its capacity of over 8,000 persons. There is no other convention hall second to the United States, and the auditorium is perfect. And Atlanta takes second rank to none in the excellence of her hotels. Most of the big hotels have been completed within the past few years and others have been remodelled, so that they equal in conveniences and service the hostesses of New York. As to ability to house the great throngs of visitors, Atlanta is unrivaled only by New York, Chicago, and possibly Los Angeles.

In the opportunities for pleasure and sight-seeing offered the visitor, Atlanta is exceptionally blessed. Its magnificent country clubs and beautiful lakes set among the rolling hills and southern pines; its historic battlefields, the big United States army post, and beautiful park, its Druid Hills military reservation colony; its beautiful Peachtree street, one of the most beautiful streets in the world; and its hundreds of miles of magnificent automobile roads are a source of permanent pleasure and happiness to its citizens, and of keen joy to all visitors.

Atlanta's Modernity.

While Atlanta is usually and conventionally a modern city, it is also a city with a rich and varied history. It has been a city of business since its first settlement, and its population was only 10,000. Today it is between 180,000 and 200,000. The area of the city is 25 square miles. It has a great variety of commercial and industrial progress, the spirit of the old south still reigns in her hospitality and social life.

Atlanta's climate, sunny and temperate at all times, is ideal in May. The city is 1,000 feet above the sea level, at the foothills of the Blue Ridge mountains. Atlanta itself is on a high ridge, so that part of its waters drain to the Atlantic ocean, and part to the Mississippi river. There is always a breeze and a bracing atmosphere.

General Sherman, who kept 100,000 men around Atlanta for six months in the summer and fall of 1864, declared that there was no place on the continent where he could have kept so large a body of men in better health.

Some of the oldest Shriners who are coming to Atlanta in May fought under the stars and stripes of the stars and bars and have memories of the old Atlanta and the old south. The old south was feudal, chivalric. The new south is modern. The old south was purely agricultural. The new south bristles with factory chimneys. It is dotted with cities whose sky lines are jagged with the silhouettes of tall buildings. Its civilization is no longer feudal but is now complex.

"The Atlanta Spirit."

Of this new south Atlanta is the recognized metropolis, and the far-famed "Atlanta spirit" has become a synonym for that broad spirit which has awakened not only Atlanta but the whole section to its tremendous opportunities for development.

Atlanta's growth since the war has been typical of the south's renaissance. When General Sherman reached Atlanta, the population was only 10,000. Today it is between 180,000 and 200,000. The Easter Bonnet

FOR the woman with only a fair amount of cleverness the little bonnet of raspberry colored straw is certainly one that may be easily copied. One piece of straw will make this little bonnet and a wire frame to fit the little girl's head can be purchased for a small sum at any millinery shop. Lace, either cream or white, is gathered and put on the hat about an inch and a half from the face. The bunch of grapes on the left side forms the only ornament. This little hat can be carried out in any color combination desired.

The hat in the center can be made entirely of taffeta, pongee or linen. A little shape cut out of muslin can be made to fit the head of the little girl for whom it is intended and used as a model for the material decided on. The little turned up portion can be stitched on separately. The hat may be also made of a straw with the crown of blue taffeta and the embroidered band may be a beaded one or one of straw.

The third bonnet is a dainty little one in black and white. This, too, may be fashioned of straw or any material desired. The crown would be dainty of crisp white taffeta or of flowered chiffon over silk or may be composed of white straw of a different weave from that used for the brim of the bonnet. A little ruche of net on the inside will form a charming finish and one very becoming to the little girl.
